MYSTERY DEEPENS IN SEARCH FOR MISSING COLLEGE GIRL

Believe Missing College Girl Is Victim Of Maniac

Start Systematic Search Of Northampton, Mass., For Missing Girl

HOPE TO CLEAR UP SIMILAR CASE

Miss Frances St. John Smith Missing Since January 13; State Aid Enlisted

(International News Service)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 18.—Working on the theory that Miss Frances St. John Smith, New York heiress and 18 year-old Smith college freshman, was slain by a maniac state police today began an intensive search in this vicinity.

State authorities believe that the solution of Miss Smith's mysterious disappearance will also solve the equally mysterious disappearance two years ago of Miss Alice Corbett, 19 of Utica, N. Y., Smith college, 19 They regard it as more than a coincidence that both girls vanished on Friday the 13th.

Senator Intervenes.

The hunt by all officers of the state police was the result of the intervession of United States Senator Frederick Hale of Maine a friend of the vanished girl's father, a retired New York broker.

The senator revealed that the family of Miss Smith fear that she has been kidnaped and held for ransom. She was recently bequeathed a large sum of money—reported to be $2,000,000 by a distant relative.

Senator Hale telegraphed an appeal to Governor Alvan T. Fuller to have the state employ every possible resource of the commonwealth to locate the missing girl. Governor Fuller immediately got in touch with Brigadier General Alfred F. Foote, commissioner of public safety, instructing him to give every assistance in the search for Miss Smith, and so notified Senator Hale at Washington.

Not in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—Reported to have been seen here by five persons, Miss Frances St. John Smith, daughter of a wealthy New York broker and Smith college freshman, for whom a nation-wide search is under way could not be located today by detectives.

A telegram from New York police sent the detectives in a futile search of a boarding house here but after rousing all the occupants no trace of the girl was found. The wire said the girl could be found living with a "Mrs. Anderson."

Captain Kingsford-Smith And Lieutenant Pond In Air 24 Hours In Record Flight

"ALL IS WELL", FLIERS RADIO

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Her three motors idling at 1,390 revolutions per minute, the Fokker monoplane "Spirit of California" at 8:09:16 a. m. today had remained aloft 24 hours in her fourth attempt to shatter the world's endurance flight record.

Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and Lieut. George R. Pond, co-pilots of the craft, radioed at 8:06 a. m.: "All's well—cruising over the field—still bitterly cold."

Moravia Street Man Shoots Self While Cleaning Gun

Charles Norman of Moravia street accidentally shot himself through the left hip while cleaning a 32 calibre rifle at his home Tuesday evening about 7:30.

The accident happened when the safety catch on the rifle slipped which caused the gun to be discharged. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of his hip. He was removed to the Shenango Valley hospital for treatment.

Boy In Hospital From Knife Wound

South New Castle Borough Lad In Hospital In Serious Condition

STORIES DIFFER ABOUT CAUSE

Mike Burda, aged 14, of Good street, South New Castle Boro, is in the New Castle hospital in serious condition as the result of a stab wound under his right shoulder, which penetrated the lung. The wound was caused by a companion, Joe Scherbak, aged 12, of South Beaver street extension, and from the stories of the injured boy and the Scherbak boy, it was caused when a boyish scuffle ensued after school on Tuesday afternoon.

The story of Mike Burda is that he was playing with some boys in the boro and that a scuffle ensued in which he fell to the ground and the Scherbak boy fell on him. As he was getting up he said that Joe told him he was going to hit him with a knife.

Stories Partially Similar.

The story of Joe Scherbak is similar in some respects to that of the Burda boy. He also stated that there was a scuffle and that a boy pushed him over on top of the Burda boy. Joe had a knife in his hand with which he had been whittling, and that the knife had struck Mike in the back, but that it was entirely accidental.

The accident, if such it was, occurred at about 4:30 in the afternoon but the police were not notified until after 10 o'clock. Sheriff H. M. Reynolds was notified and he immediately went out on the case. He interviewed the injured boy in the hospital and later went to the home of the Scherbak boy on South Beaver street extension.

Because of the extreme youth of the lad, the sheriff did not make any arrests, the parents promising to produce him in case of any necessity for it.

Policemen Must Remain On Duty

(International News Service)

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Jan. 18. — Council last night cast a fly in the soup of policeman who like to perform their duty from the rear seat of a cozy motion picture theater, especially in cold weather.

Hereafter, council ruled, policemen must do their "policing" in the wide open spaces and remain out of the theatre while on duty.

Pour Out 600 Gallons Of Confiscated Liquor At County Court House

If there are any fish in the Shenango river, they probably have a hangover today. And if there are any sewer rats in the sewer system of this city, they probably imagined themselves curly wolves last night for a time.

The reason for the condition lies in a Pouring Party held in the cellar of the court house last night when County Detective William Fleming and Sheriff H. M. Reynolds had some 600 gallons of various and sundry kinds of confiscated drinking liquor poured down the sewer.

Bottles and cans and demi-johns, barrels and kegs and flasks, every conceivable kind of a container and each of them containing from a half pint to a hundred gallons of liquid headaches.

The District Attorney, J. Elder Bryan was there and managed to survive the horrible fumes which arose from the liquor. So was County Commissioner P. O. Elder and Con-

Hickman Trial Likely To Open Next Wednesday

District Attorney Keyes Opposes Move By Defense For Trial Postponing

WALSH INTERVIEWS LIST OF WITNESSES

Slayer Of Little Marion Parker Waits Trial In Court

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 18.—William Edward Hickman will go on trial for the kidnaping and murder of 12-year-old Marion Parker, on January 25, the scheduled date, if the efforts of District Attorney Asa Keyes and his associates prevail.

Determination to zealously fight all attempts on the part of the defense to have the trial postponed was today the response of the state to reports that Jerome Walsh, Hickman's chief counsel, would ask for a deferral of the trial in order to allow him more time in taking depositions. Walsh is at present engaged in interviewing witnesses in Kansas City and Arkansas.

The district attorney's office here, when apprised of reports that the Kansas City attorney intended to ask for a postponement, declared that it would sharply oppose any defense move in the direction of continuing the trial.

Hotelling Will Plead Guilty To Murder Of Child

CONFESSES TO OTHER ATTACKS

Jekyll And Hyde Personality Puzzles Friends Of Respected Farmer

(International News Service)

IONIA, Mich., Jan. 18.—Adolph Hotelling, revealed now as the arch fiend who attacked two children of his Owosso neighbors, and suspected as the "ape man" who terrorized Owosso housewives two years ago, is ready to plead guilty to the murder of five-year-old Dorothy Schneider.

In an amplified confession today, penned by himself, Hotelling said:

Confesses to Other Attacks

"Wishing to clear up everything in these matters and to make a clean breast of it all, I hereby confess to the attack upon Esther Skinner at Oak Hill cemetery, Owosso, on or about February 17, 1926, and to the attack upon Ella May Horn near Carland, on April 27, 1927.

Before the day is over the life sentence for the murder of little Dorothy may be passed on the middle-aged churchman whose Jekyll and Hyde personality embraced a mild mannered public life cloaked in snug respectability and a hidden self steeped in a sordid emotionalism which surpasses normal understanding.

Must Return to Flint

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 18.—Adolph Hotelling must return to Flint in the county where he murdered five-year-old Dorothy Schneider, Judge Fred W. Brennan ruled today in circuit court.

After a long conference with two associate judges, prosecutors and police, Judge Brennan announced he would not even consider a motion for a change of venue by Hotelling's attorney unless the prisoner was in court "in person".

Nicaragua Will Be Live Theme In Havana Sessions

America's Attitude Will Probably Be Discussed In Executive Sessions

U. S. DELEGATION WINS CONFIDENCE

President Coolidge's Visit Does Much To Aid In Conference Progress

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HAVANA, Jan. 18.—The American delegation to the sixth Pan-American conference is leaving no stone unturned to convince the suspicious countries of South and Central America that the cards are on the table—face up.

The Latin-American statesmen who came to Havana anticipating trouble have been to a large extent disarmed by the bland manner in which the United States delegation, headed by Charles Evans Hughes, has fallen in with every suggestion, even including that of open sessions of the conference committees. That concession on the part of the North American delegates smacked of "open covenants openly arrived at"—a distinctive departure from the usual rules governing Pan-American congresses.

Open Diplomacy

Theoretically the advocates of "open diplomacy" have won a signal victory. Actually there was considerable doubt today as to just how open this diplomacy is to be. It is true that committee hearings will be open to the public, via the press, but it requires but the request of one member of one committee to transfer the session into an executive one behind closed doors. That fact accounts for some of the alacrity with which Mr. Hughes accepted the Argentine proposition of open committee meetings.

It is anticipated that one of the questions which Mr. Hughes will want to have discussed in executive session is that dealing with the present situation of the United States in Nicaragua.

American military occupation of Nicaragua, as such, is not a subject for conference discussion. There is, however, on the agenda the question of codifying international law with interpretations of "intervention" that are of vital importance to Washington's diplomacy in Central America.

U. S. Answer Ready

The American answer to the Nicaraguan issue has already been decided upon. It will consist of the statement that there is no Nicaraguan question, inasmuch as the Nicaraguan government itself, as well as both major political parties, requested the presence of American marines.

The definition of what constitutes "intervention", however, presents an-

Chicago Gangsters Claim Lives Of Three More Victims, Bodies Are Found

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Gangland war flared again in Chicago today and the bodies of three victims, riddled with machine gun bullets, were found in two different places of the deserted wastes on the far south side.

Bodies of two of the victims, fashionably dressed, were found slumped in a ditch. The third victim was found a mile away hurled in the marshy weeds adjoining an unfrequented road.

Squads of police were rushed to the scenes.

Meet Disembarking Guests; Relieve Them Of Gift Liquor

(International News Service)

HOBOKEN, N. J., Jan. 18.—Four hundred members of the Hoboken Chamber of Commerce, leaving the steamship Berlin after their annual dinner, were held up early today at the shore end of the gangplank by 20 customs agents who said they had learned that bottles of liquor were distributed at the dinner as souvenirs. The customs agents confiscated bottles which most of the guests were carrying in neatly tied packages, but some of the guests threw their packages into the river.

No arrests were made. The guests were highly indignant over the affair, however, and scorched the balmy night air with threats of reprisals.

The customs agents said that the packages contained "gift bottles" of whiskey, gin, champagne and other liquors. The kings of Hoboken industry had hired the steamship for their annual blowout.

Fisticuffs resulted when the agents searched the departing guests for the bottles. Some of the more timid members of the "four hundred", fearing publicity, hid under the steamship's lifeboats.

New Castle Printers Enjoy Fine Banquet On Tuesday Evening

Eighty Gather At The Castleton For Delightful Evening's Program

ARMOR PRESIDES AS TOASTMASTER

Vance E. Burkholder And Fred L. Rentz Make Brief Addresses

New Castle Typographical Union No. 270 held their inauguration banquet and dance at The Castleton on Tuesday night, and to say that the affair was a big success would be putting it mildly.

Eighty persons including members of the union, their wives and employers were present, and it was as one member said "just one happy family". The occasion numbers among the many fine social successes held at The Castleton and reflects credit on the committee in charge of the arrangements.

It was a banquet and dance in which you were made to feel at home from the time you arrived until time to leave, it was a big jolly gathering of printers and job men entered into the occasion with whole-hearted support and a spirit of good will and fellowship permeated to every nook and corner of the spacious banquet hall.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the banquet got under way and the meal which was mighty palatable and tasty, was served in the usual fashion by The Castleton management. The menu consisted of roast Virginia ham, sweet potatoes and all that goes with such an outlay of food.

Brief Speaking Program.

With the banquet out of the way a post-prandial program was presented, William T. Armor was placed in the role as toastmaster. Mr. Armor after a few short introductory remarks called upon the first speaker of the evening Vance E. Burkholder, president of the New Castle Typographical Union and Mr. Burkholder responded with a neat address.

Mr. Burkholder told of the organization of the local union and also the International Typographical Union, which as he said was one of the strongest of its kind in the country. He told of the benefits to be derived from the union, and that it is the aim of the union to practice conciliation and arbitration with the employers. It teaches apprentices through a course of lessons to become better printers and better craftsmen.

The I. T. U. has an old age pension that takes care of those who through old age are unable to earn a livelihood. It also has a death benefit so that none of the members will be buried in a potters grave and also the I. T. U. maintains one of the finest homes in the country for the care of the sick and aged members.

"Having attained such pronounced success in their first venture with an affair of this kind, I am in favor of the local union holding an annual banquet" said Burkholder in closing.

Building Code Is Considered

Councilmen Informally Discuss New Measure This Morning

MANY BUILDING PROVISIONS MADE

Members of city council today sat informally in council chambers, city building and discussed the building code, which has been introduced as an ordinance and is now in committee. Only two other persons in addition to councilmen were present.

The ordinance is voluminous and is subject to change and when councilmen decide what portions to subtract and append to the bill it will be ordered printed for final reading and passage.

The ordinace establishes fire limits, regulations governing construction, equipment, alteration, repair or removal of buildings or structures and provides for the enforcement of the regulations and penalties for violations.

The intent is to provide adequate and safe building construction, including the proper planning, design, quality, use and erection of building materials, systems, units and

Final Action On Illinois Senator During Afternoon

Poll Indicates That Illinois Senator-Elect Will Be Barred By Large Vote

EXPECT APPOINTEE WILL FILL PLACE

Reports Indicate Smith May Become Candidate Again For Place

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A hostile Senate had its mind made up today to deny a seat to Senator-Elect Frank L. Smith (R.) of Illinois, because of huge expenditures in his 1926 campaign.

A poll of the senate by International News Service indicated Smith would be excluded by an overwhelming majority through adoption of the Reed slush fund committee's resolution, holding him "not entitled to a seat" and declaring his seat vacant. Smith, too, was so certain of the result that he made no effort to speak in his own defense nor even to attend the final debate.

Senate's Plan.

The senate planned to act under the constitutional clause declaring "each house shall be the sole judge of the qualifications of its members". Some of the greatest constitutional authorities in the country disagreed upon this authority but the senate's action cannot be challenged as no court has jurisdiction over it.

With Smith ousted and the seat held vacant, Illinois will be left with but a single senator. There were indications, however, that Governor Len Small of Illinois would name a temporary appointee to serve until after the next election. It was widely reported here that Smith would become a candidate again in the approaching Illinois primaries, although some Republican leaders predicted his retirement from public life because of ill health.

Third Time He's Barred.

When Smith is finally barred, it will be the third time the doors of the senate have been slammed in his face. In January, 1926, he sought admission on a temporary appointment from Governor Small. He was denied the oath of office and forced to stand on the sidelines. Last December he tried to get into the senate again with his certificate of election won in 1926. Again the senate denied him the right to the oath.

The question raised against Smith each time was that he won the election through "fraud and corruption" carried out by excessive campaign expenditures. The Reed committee charged $458,782 had been spent in his behalf, of which $203,000 was contributed by the heads of public utilities over which Smith held jurisdiction as chairman of the Illinois public service commission. Smith held the

Farm Problems Are Analyzed At Harrisburg

Pennsylvania Farmers Attending Farm Show, Start Analysis Of Problems

BETTER RETURNS ARE BEING SOUGHT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—With the state's finest crops and produce on display in six huge exposition halls at the twelfth annual farm products show here, the Pennsylvania farmer today turned his attention to a careful analysis of his problems.

Representatives of every line of endeavor in the state which produced a quarter of a billion dollars worth of crops last year met in association meetings to consider methods of insuring better returns from the soil.

A sale of pure bred swine started the day for the thousands which have crowded every available accommodation space for the four-day show.

The society of Farm Women met in the capitol and later for luncheon while the Horticultural Association meeting was to be followed by a banquet this evening.

Vegetable growers, the State Poultry association, the Beekeepers association and the dairy and milk inspectors each held their group meetings.

A vocational program was to be followed by a luncheon of sheep breeders and potato growers, while the Farm Bureau Federation meeting was one of the outstanding features of the program.

The state's young farmers also had their day today, to be climaxed by an evening meeting, while swine growers and breeders also were to hold evening meetings.

Three In Class Before Gillespie

Class before Mayor William H. Gillespie this morning at the regular session of police court consisted of three men, two charged with being drunk and the third with being drunk and disorderly.

One of the drunks was permitted to go. The second paid a fine of $5.

Lawrence McCaffery, arrested by Officer James Steiner and charged with being drunk and disorderly was given the alternative of paying a fine of $10 or spending ten days in the county jail.

He was arrested while attempting to "bum" food and money in a downtown residence section. He was very abusive when his demands were not received in a cordial manner.

He did not have the money and was sent to the county jail.

Immense Buses Go Through City

Three immense auto busses of a type resembling interurban street cars were in New Castle just before noon, enroute from an Ohio factory to Virginia, where they are to be placed in service. They attracted considerable attention when parked along the curb on Washington street for it took nearly a block to park the three cars.

was the Arthur and Brown Revue of the Capitol Theatre, obtained for the occasion by the committee, and they put on a fifteen minute program consisting of songs, instrument playing and dancing. The singer was Miss Eda Vernon and the dancers were Miss Nellie Speakman and Miss Julia Gleason.

Rentz Speaks.

Fred L. Rentz, president of The News Company, was the final speaker on the program, and "Fred" as he is known to the boys in the shop gave an excellent talk in which he went back in history and recalled organization of the New Castle Union No. 270. The first meeting of the union or the organization was effected on October 31, 1890 and the following men were charter members:—Fred L. Rentz, B. F. Butler, John W. White, Norris D. Pyle, John F. Quinn, W. P. Miller and John A. Leathers. From the six pioneers who braved the scorn and criticism of the first attempt to organize the printers the local union has grown to a membership of 35, with about eight apprentices, and the membership is increasing rapidly.

Mr. Rentz told how the printers were coming into their own and how the employers aim to take care of their men regarding health and comfort and explained the principal of the News building as an example of workmanship. At one time in the city of New Castle there were three dailies and four weeklies, but this number has been reduced to one.

On pleasing thing about the banquet last night there was no long flow of oratory and the two speakers filled the bill very nicely. Whether by accident or not the banquet tables were arranged in the form of a big "T" denoting Typographical.

Following the speeches the latter hours were spent in dancing to the music furnished by a special orchestra, and for those who did not care to dance their were card tables provided and bridge and "500" occupied the time.

It was through the untiring efforts of the committee James A. Jackamo, Thomas J. Dugan and Harvey E. Hickling that the first banquet and dance of the local union, and in fact the first gathering of its kind in this city attained the high mark of success. It is no easy job to arrange for a banquet as one of the committee said, but it certainly was a pleasure, and if the members are agreed then the banquet and dance will more than likely be an annual occasion here. It was a new experience for the men but they were equal to the task.

latter position almost until the day he sought admission to the senate.

The issue raised in barring Smith was that these contributions place him under obligations to the utility heads and that their gifts helped him to "buy the election". His friends contended that the people of Illinois had known all about the moneys, as the contributions were made in his primary campaign, and that they elected him anyway.

The attack on Smith was led by Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, Senator Walsh (D) of Montana and Senator George (D) of Georgia. His defense was led by Senator David A. Reer (R) of Pennsylvania, Senator Deneen (R) of Illinois, Senator Shortridge (R) of California and Senator Bingham (R) of Connecticut.

Under an agreement reached yesterday, the final vote on exclusion was to be taken this afternoon.

Funeral services will take place Friday morning, January 20 at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mr. Fitzgerald was a resident of Lansing, Mich., acting as special representative of the Grand Trunk Railway Co. Previous to this time Mr. Fitzgerald had been employed as general agent of the Western & Southern Railway Co. of Cleveland, O., where he was held in high esteem among all his associates.

Cleveland papers are asked to please copy.

Time Of Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Miss Grace Anna Woolcock will take place Friday, January 20, from the residence of her sister, Mrs. Frank, 423 East Sheridan avenue. Burial will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Paul B. Iman.

Paul B. Iman, age 30, one of the best known athletes New Castle has had for many years, passed away Tuesday evening, at 9:30 o'clock in the St. Elizabeth hospital in Youngstown, O. Death was due to pneumonia.

The death of Mr. Iman will come as a shock to hundreds of New Castle men and women who knew him. Born in Evans City, August 25, 1897, he came to New Castle with his parents when but a youngster and was raised here. His work as a third baseman on the Pennsylvania Shop teams, and the Reick-McJunkin teams is remembered by sport lovers for its brilliancy. A hard fighter, he was a worthy foe, and played the game as he lived, fairly and manly.

Mr. Iman was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad and about fifteen months ago was given a responsible position as a yardmaster in the Hazelton Yards in Youngstown, O. He contracted a heavy cold which resulted in pneumonia.

He was a member of the Masonic bodies of New Castle and had taken all the degress of the Scottish Rite up to and including the 32nd. He is survived by his widow, his son Paul, Jr., a sister, Mrs. Fred A. Glenn, his father, T. Bert Iman, and his grandmother, Mrs. Anna Iman, all of New Castle.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the home of his brother-in-law, James Fowler of North Mercer street.

Mrs. Bessie M. Hood.

Mrs. Bessie Maybelle Tilden Hood, aged 43 years, wife of Harry A. Hood, died suddenly Tuesday evening at 11:45 at her home, 319 West Falls street, of heart failure.

Although Mrs. Hood had been in poor health for some time she did not seem to be any worse than usual. She prepared the supper and partook of the same. Retiring early she was later taken ill which resulted in her death some hours later.

Mrs. Hood was born in New Castle, June 5, 1884 being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tilden. She leaves besides her husband, her mother, Mrs. Minnella Tilden, a daughter, Minnella H. Valentine of Buffalo, N. Y., and one son, Harry Lee Hood, Jr. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Cecelia La Maves and a brother, Commodore L. Tilden.

Mrs. Hood was a woman of loving and kindly disposition. She was a member of St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church from which funeral services will be conducted on Friday, January 20 at 2 p. m. Interment in Graceland cemetery.

Giovanni Del Rosso

Giovanni Del Rosso, aged 67 years, died Tuesday evening at the home of his son, William Del Rosso of 27 North Front street.

Mr. Del Rosso is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Frank Scarci of Cleveland, O., and one son, William, of this city.

Funeral services will take place Thursday, January 19, at 2 p. m., from the residence on Front street. Burial will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Robert C. Spence Buried.

Funeral services for Robert Clair Spence took place from the family home, 912 Warren avenue, Monday evening at 8 o'clock with Dr. Charles B. Wingerd, his pastor, of Central Presbyterian church, in charge. The services were largely attended by schoolmates and friends of the young man. The body was taken Tuesday to Indiana, Pa., where further services were held at 1:30 p. m. The pallbearers at the services in this city were Henry Wilkison, Watson Wilson, Robert McKee and James Hill. The pallbearers at Indiana were Earl Long, Harold Fainnan, Ralph Veensel, Clair Spence, Leonard Kindle and Willis McHenry. Burial was made at Indiana.

Good Services By Salvation Army

Interest is growing in the revival meetings being held at the Salvation Army headquarters, 26 East street. Tuesday evening, Rev. Edward Shaffer preached taking for his text Genesis 3:9. "Where Art Thou?" He said in part. "Adam was afraid of the question from God. God knows where you are and He wants a confession and so he asks the question. God always gives a chance for an answer. Man does not seek God first. God seeks man. We must be born again. Where art thou believer? Walking with Christ like Enoch or are you still in the wilderness?

This evening Rev. Abram Shaffer will preach. Service begins at eight o'clock. Good crowds are attending the meetings.

Large Crowd To Attend Banquet

Beaver And Butler Counties To Send Delegations To Legion Banquet

If the present indications are to be taken as a criterion of the crowd which will be in attendance, the banquet to National Commander Spafford and State Commander Hollenbach, which will be held January 26 in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, will be an exceptional success.

Post Commander A. Edward Russell of the Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, stated today that the tickets were going rapidly and that at least 300 members and their wives from the Beaver and Butler county districts would be present. The banquet is open to the public, and this year it will be possible to accommodate both men and women.

Newspapermen Are On Program

Pittsburgh Sport Writers Scheduled For Alec Fox Banquet Program

Chilly Doyle, Pittsburgh newspaperman and one of the best and most authentic sports writers in America, will be the principal spokesman at the testimonial dinner to be given in honor of Alex Fox, New Castle, 1928 Pitt football captain, Saturday at The Castleton. While Doyle is noted as a splendid writer he is also recognized as one of the best orators and humorists in this section of the country.

Doyle, according to Ralph Gardner, faculty manager at New Castle high, has informed him he will be only too glad to be present Saturday night as "Chilly Sause" as he is known in baseball ranks, has covered many football games in which Fox played spectacularly and is conversant with his career. Doyle, by the way, is a forman Sharon boy.

Jess Carver, who covers most of the Pitt games, will also be one of the spokesmen and it is probable that Jess, prominent in collegiate football circles, will be glad to give the diners some of the inside of Alex's brilliant playing at Pitt.

Karl Davis and either Charles Bowser or Alex Stevenson, the latter coaches at Pitt, will be present, as will Dean Siell of the Pitt dental school. Ralph Davis or John McMahon, other Pittsburgh newspapermen, will also be present, it is expected, and according to Gardner, there will be others from distant points here to help honor Alex Fox, who has in a measure brought football fame to New Castle, the city of which he is a resident.

Coach "Jock" Sutherland would have liked to come but inasmuch as he previously had accepted an invitation to make the principal speech at the Gibby Welch testimonial dinner in West Virginia, he found it impossible to be in the two states at the same time. However, it was with great regret that he found it impossible to be present at the testimonial dinner here.

SOFTENING THE RACE

AN EMINENT Chicago physician declares that the causes for the familiar, home-grown colds from which so many persons suffer may be found in luxuries. If that is so, it adds another count to the indictment of modern living.

More than once has the statement been made that modern conveniences and modern luxuries are making us "soft." It is predicted that if the automobiles increase in number thus making it possible for more and more persons to ride, it will not be so many million years before humanity begins to shed its feet and legs.

There are many impressive statistics on mortality, health, athletic achievement, physical excellences revealed by the war to combat all this talk about race degeneracy, but with all that there are many persons ready to testify and believe that the softening influences in modern life have made muscles flabby and reduced physicial resistance as compared with the days when living was rugged existence shifting between the outdoors and the fireplace.

More likely the truth is that if the people of today are more susceptible to colds and other ailment it is because they abuse or misuse the remarkable conveniences. And should that be the case, it would merely illustrate again how inexorable in life is the law of compensation which for everything given, something must be given up.

NICARAGUA

TECHNICALLY only congress has the constitutional power to declare war; but acts of the chief executive may tend to involve the nation in war without the authorization of congress.

Presidents Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson and Coolidge all used force, always in the case of supposed Latin-American beneficiaries. But no president pretends to make war on his own hook. He protects American interests by force. If American marines are dispatched to a foreign country, they are not there for war. They are there to protect American interests. In the course of such expeditions, peaceful in intent, natives unworthy of their blessings are liable to be killed.

Some students of constitutional law contend the power to authorize the use of offensive force abroad is comprised in the war-declaring power and so vested exclusively in congress. But when American citizens have to be protected in an emergency the president cannot wait to assemble congress; and protection of Americans and American interests is not using offensive force.

The Marines are now in Nicaragua not for the purpose of keeping a minority political group in power, but to keep out of power a group that would be a menace to American citizens and American interests in Nicaragua if it got in control. They are there to insure the adequate protection of all American interests in Nicaragua, whether they be endangered by internal strife or by outside interference in the affairs of that republic.

Every American holds it as a fundamental principle that every people has the right to determine its own form of government. And the present administration at Washington is not denying that right to Nicaraguans by sending marines against those of them who respect neither property rights nor the right of self-government.

COLLEGE AND DEMOCRACY

SINGULARLY little attention has been paid to the important role which the institutions of higher education have played in creating the distinctive civilization known as American. Much is being said today, and much of it true, of the over-emphasis or mistaken emphasis placed upon college education. Incredibable swarms of boys and girls but little fitted for such training are demanding and securing it. Not a few observers question the advantages of such wholesome application of higher learning to the masses.

But whatever the defects of the system, it is of the very warp and woot of democracy. The people demand the universities and desire and expect much from them. The people feel that the university, especially the public or state institution, exists for their service and the training of their children; that it is theirs, their very own.

Secretary Hoover places first among the causes of American prosperity the "fine initiative and intelligence of our people in the use of our resources." Surely that initiative and intelligence have been indissolubly linked with the democracy and opportunity which the country's educational institutions have afforded.

Every thoughtful and democratic American repudiates the idea that the children of laboring men should be differently educated from other people's children. There is no reason why a child in this free country should inherit the occupation of its father. The manner and subjects of a child's education should be determined by its aptitudes, and not by the occupation or social position of the parents.

Democracy and the university were made for each other. Both are training schools of self-reliance and responsibility. The world will never be saved by the device of staying out of it. Free government with all its life demands the university. If they have done nothing else, colleges and universities have prevented the caste system from developing in this country.

The sad thing about a good memory is when you see a movie you know what the plot was called last time.

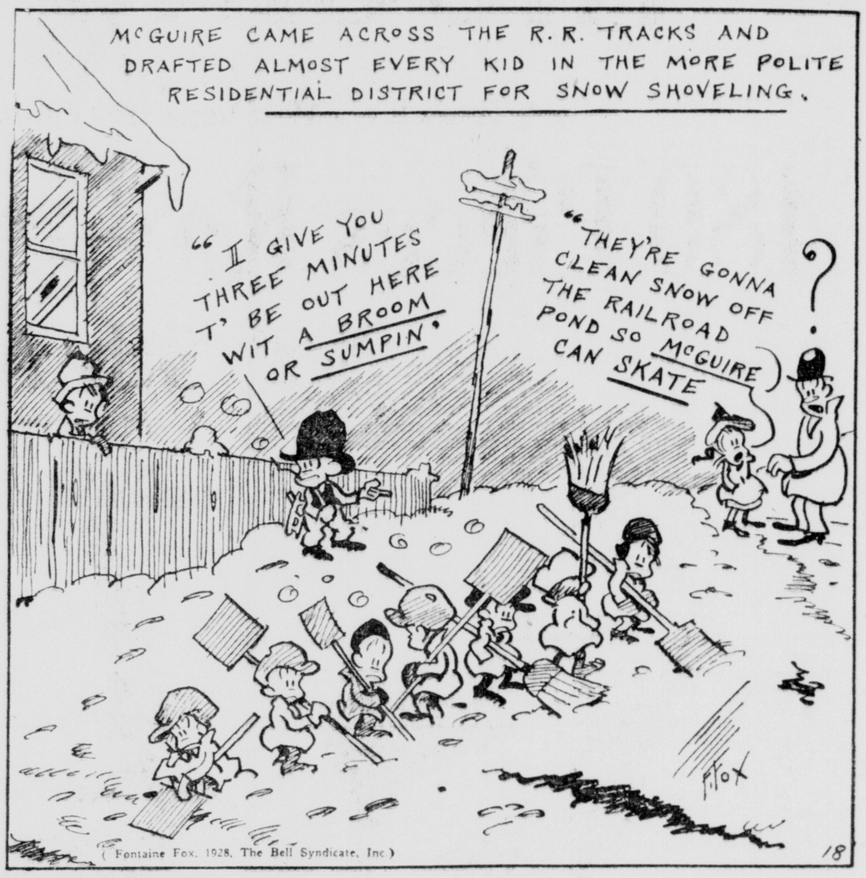

AMERICANISM: Expecting Santa to provide what you want while you're young; expecting the Government to do it when you get older.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:01. Sun rises tomorrow 7:20.

Eight hundred tons of new $1 bills will be put into circulation by the government. If you hustle you may be able to get a few. We'll take a nickel's worth.

We noticed an item which told of flower seeds that had been in a tomb or something for over two thousand years and when they were planted grew perfectly. We hope some American seed sellers and growers see that item, as some of the seeds they sell that are supposed to be only a year old simply refuse to grow at all.

After nearly fifty years we are more glad than ever that we belong to that honorable and ancient craft of printer. Last night we attended a banquet of the members of the local printers union, at which were also the wives and sweethearts of the printers and also some invited guests. The banquet was a little more than the usual banquets. The thing that stood out in it with us was that THERE WAS NO SMOKING AT ALL AT ANY TIME DURING THE EVENING. This was fine and very unusual. Also THERE WAS NOT A DROP OF LIQUOR AT THIS BANQUET INSIDE OR OUTSIDE. The printers of New Castle deserve a lot of credit and we are giving it to them in every way we know how. It was as fine a company of men and women, numbering about 100, that ever met in New Castle.

One way to make aviation safe would be to hire some good lawyer and prove that the law of gravitation is unconstitutional.

This year is going to be a good one for industry, from what we hear from pretty good authority. This sounds good, and with what most of us can do to help things along in other ways it ought to be a mighty good year.

Work is monotonous, but so is loafing.

Some men remind us of the pretzel. They just get well started in one direction when they turn toward something else.

The Democrats seem to be settling down to Governor Smith of New York as their candidate for President. If Governor Smith is strong enough to subdue the opposition of the Democrats in his own party, he becomes quite a figure in the Presidential race. He will at least be the candidate of the Democratic party, which in itself is quite a victory.

Some men are jilted because a little misunderstanding about their position. And some because of a little Miss understanding about the same thing.

A New York high society lady wants a divorce because when a lady friend of hers visited her at her home on the Hudson she would appear at the dinner table—evening, of course—in a nightgown, knickers and a brassiere, whatever that may be. She would kiss the complainant's husband and caress him right in her presence. We are sure that pair was making trouble on purpose.

It's the assurance that some dentists give you before they pull it that hurts.

We know a sure way for crooks to get away from the police so they will never get or find out where they are. All the crooks have to do is to get an airplane and start across for Europe—and the chances are big they never will be heard of again.

The theory that practice makes perfect would be all right if one didn't have to pay for the lessons.

A lady from Texas, 33 years old, and looking not over 23, is in Chicago. She has had six husbands and is looking for the seventh. She says all her husbands were young chaps, but she wants an old man for the seventh. She also says she is on good terms with all her husbands and they visit her frequently. Wham, de doodle, wham!

Giving the boy a middle name isn't of great importance. It's the family name that ruins him.

A woman writer says that women are always at their best in middle age. Well, they should be. Consider the practice they have had.

Sometimes we fear the world is going to the dogs, and then we smell perfume on a man and don't care if it does.

At that, however, a trim looking girl in short skirts doesn't look nearly so near undressed as a fat man in knickers.

Hear disease was the cause of 20,788 deaths in Pennsylvania in 1926, far more deaths being caused by that disease than from any other. There were also more deaths from other causes than during the year previous. Political deaths were not counted.

WHAT EVERY MAN WILL DO

A woman reader of this newspaper has submitted the following observations:

Every man when he knows he is in the wrong, assumes an air of great dignity.

Every man thinks his time is important and sets his watch at every jeweler's window, at every town clock, and whenever the radio announcer mentions the hour.

Every man discusses himself with every woman that will listen to him.

Every man clings with tenacity to the easiest chair.

Every man pretends indifference to clothes.

Every man knows he could cook and manage a house.

Every man hates being polite to his wife.

Every man thinks he has wonderful self-control because the woman had the last word.

Every man believes he is severe with his children.

Every man scatters ashes.

Every man is deceived by flattery.

Every man is satisfied with his weight and himself.

Every man cherishes the thought that he is a he-man and superior to woman.

Every man considers himself logical.

Every man is sentimental.

Every man thinks he knows women.

Every man is a spoiled child.

The man responsible for the Democratic national convention meeting in Texas next summer is named Jesse Jones. One has to be careful in saying that name as one might say the name of a prominent Missourian of some years ago.

So far we have not heard of any woman boasting that she is a leap year bride, meaning of course, that she took the credit for the culmination of the romance.

One good way to avoid quarreling at breakfast is to cook your own while the wife has another nap.

The old-fashioned mistletoe was a haphazard makeshift as compared with the system the girls of today put into operation, which closely approximates an exact science.

"Has it ever occurred to you," asks an exchange, "that tears are uniformly too late?" No, to tell the truth it hasn't; nor do we believe it's strictly true. A woman begins to work in earnest only when she turns on the flood—and no one would accuse the slicker sex of waiting until it's too late to use her strongest argument.

Man wants little here below freezing, nor wants that little long.

A Prussian chemist has evolved a cocktail tablet. All that is necessary is to throw one of them into a wineglass full of your favorite spigot water and presto! the aperitif. The fly in the digbusted thing is, however, that you have to get the tablet.

As little Bobbie might have written it after hearing it once. "Gray toques from litle ache corns grow."

To the women, bless their hearts; we can get along without them. In fact, they're bare necessities.

And now there is the three-piece pajama. Ah, yes; another form of the two-pants suit.

There are more than 200,000 useless words in the English language, according to one philologist, and a lot of them get on Christmas cards wishing the recipient "hearty sincere good wishes."

Colored typewriters are advertised as a novelty, and perhaps they are. But why consider it so strange? We also have colored actresses now.

Judging from the way they've been shooting into them they look more like the holey bonds of matrimony.

"War is just a habit," says a peace advocate. Well, a lot of other things are, also—loving your relations, for instance.

It's a smart man who can read his paper satisfactorily and answer a woman's questions intelligently at the same time, but we never found a man who was that smart.

Home is more deadly than the street, says a safety expert. There's a chap who should get out of the habit of carrying his domestic difficulties into his business life.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" is going to get into the musical realm next year, and we suppose the astute producers will have a whole flock of Elizas in swimming tights doing a pageant on papier mache ice.

The man who constantly makes mistakes seldom makes good.

We can't work up much sympathy for the chap who finds himself in a tight place after killing a man over an argument as to what is the proper feed for ducks, when he might have switched to a debate as to the nutrition that is best for a much more interesting species of poultry.

Our own opinion is that the man who spent $195 on long distance calls to tell his wife he still loved her, did protest too much and too expensively; suspicious.

If Ten Commandments can't make men decent, 1,999,990 more can't do it.

All the average man desires in a wife is beauty and a brilliant mind and the conviction that he is far superior to her.

It isn't surprising that Adam had insufficient self-respect to keep him from falling. Think how long he had gone without a shave.

Still, belief in the divine right of kings is no more silly than belief in the divine right of millionaires.

There are no great orators now, but these would have seemed great to the old-timers who delighted in oratory.

Don't let old-timers fool you. People were just as mean back in the old days when a woman with powder on her nose was a "hussy."

Another thing worth noting is that Lindbergh never took a correspondence course to develop a dominating personality.

Battleship and Coach.

Cannon, Bow and Arrow.

The First That Flew.

100 Sample Stocks.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

President Coolidge sailed into Havana harbor on the battleship Texas, convoyed by six destroyers—their official job being to keep off submarines and torpedo boats. If it had been real war the President would have gone in a submarine or a flying ship—never in a dangerous floating steel target. The expensive battleship would not have been sent out of its snug harbor and the destroyers "would have been busy dodging destruction from the air". Battleships are magnificently impressive and as obsolete as the gilded six-horse coach in which King George rides to open Parliament.

Some good news about government flying machines at last. We may eventually realize that the richest nation should develop the only defense really important—fighting airplanes and destructive submarines.

Our government airships flew, nonstop, to Managua. And a real air fighting air unit is to "co-operate" with the battle fleet in the Pacific. Two airplane carriers, able to launch 100 airships each, will be part of the Pacific fleet. And the navy says it is determined to "maintain supremacy of the air at sea."

The only fighting at sea, henceforth, is to be the air. And to talk of airships "co-operating" with a battle fleet is like talking of high-powered cannon co-operating with bows and arrows. If war came the fliers would have to protect the battleships.

This news from Washington should sink into the national mind. At Panama an obsolete 5,000-ton ship was used for a target. A "preliminary bombardment" was ordered, six pursuit planes, dropping little 25-pound bombs, supposed to be of value only in bombing troops on the ground. A serious bombardment with heavier bombs was to follow. But when the light pursuit planes and light bombs had finished there was nothing left to bombard. The big ship was at the bottom. The light bombing was done on the theory that a big warship was being attacked in action. The little bombs were to drive the gun crews of the battleship away from their guns, including their anti-aircraft guns. Then the big bombs were to come and finish the ship.

This enlightening experiment, one of the most important made by the navy, indicates what 6,000-pound bombs of T.N.T. will do to $60,000,000 battleships.

The original Wright Brothers' air machine, first plane that ever carried a human being through the air under human control, is boxed up for shipment to England. It ought to stay here in the Smithsonian Institution.

If the richest country in the world is too poor to buy it, Henry Ford might add it to his collection of transportation antiques, suspending it above the original Ford car—which, by the way, you could not buy from Ford for ten million dollars. Try it.

The Smithsonian Institution should have Lindbergh's trans-Atlantic plane also and the government should pay Lindbergh enough for it to make him independent for life. If Lindbergh got $1,000,000 for that machine he would get less than one per cent of what this country owes him. The "Spirit of St. Louis", despite all Lindbergh's good care, must be getting old and worn, and a brand new machine, best and safest the world can produce, should take its place.

Advice often given here, "don't sell anything in this country short," is based on the fact that good American properties are cheap, and are going up. Frazier, Jelke & Co., list 100 American stocks whose total value was over seventeen billions at the end of 1926 and more than twenty-three billions at the end of 1927, a gain of five billion eight hundred and eighteen million dollars in one year. Does that look like a "good short sale"?

This year the country's electric light and power companies alone will spend nine hundred millions on new construction. They evidently expect more business, although great cement plants, utilizing for power heat that has hitherto gone up the chimneys, will reduce electric power consumption by one-half, or more. Don't gamble. Above all, don't sell short.

A Washington correspondent says Secretary Mellon will support Herbert Hoover for President next year. Millions of voters, in both parties, hope that Mr. Mellon himself will be nominated, and feel sure that he would be elected by a majority overwhelming. Mr. Mellon's endorsement of Mr. Hoover would be very powerful, would mean many votes in the convention and many votes at the polls.

La Nacion newspaper, said to be owned by the government of Chile, carries on what John Clayton, well-known correspondent, calls a "campaign of filthy, vicious abuse of the United States". Clayton suggests a serious clash between Chile and this country. It takes two to make a serious clash, especially when one is overwhelmingly more powerful than the other.

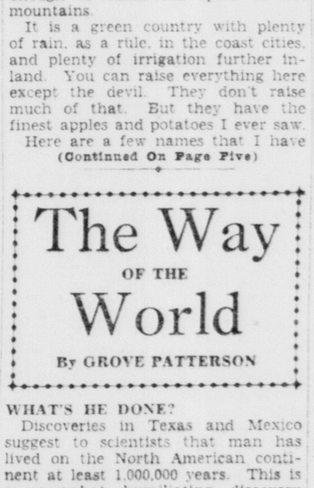

Vicious abuse never hurts, when it is false. George Washington was viciously abused, accused of planning to make himself king of America. That did not hurt him or his reputation. It is what you are, what you do and what your intentions are that count, not what others say about you. Let La Nacion talk and abuse and let us do our best to build up this North and South American continent, especially our part of it. And let us keep ready, always, in case words should change to action.

AMERICAN NAMES

I have been wallowing in American names. Here in the Northwest Pacific country names are American. I have been at Seattle, Tacoma, Yakima and Spokane. These names are drawn from the Indian and smack of America. This is the country Bill Thompson should be in. It is one hundred per cent American. They don't have any trouble with anything British out here. They are not afflicted with immigration, Italians, Irish, English, Germans or anything but ex-easterners and ex-middle westerners, and most of them have been here long enough to catch the spirit of the mountains.

It is a green country with plenty of rain, as a rule, in the coast cities, and plenty of irrigation further inland. You can raise everything here except the devil. They don't raise much of that. But they have the finest apples and potatoes I ever saw.

Here are a few names that I have Discoveries in Texas and Mexico suggest to scientists that man has lived on the North American continent at least 1,000,000 years. THE BIG FIGHT

The fight of the human being to harmonize his natural instincts with his acquired capacity for living a rational, sensible, well-ordered life is still the master struggle of the ages. MATERIALISM

Great Britain has Commissions just as does these United States. The representatives of one of these English Commissions are at present in this country endeavoring to learn many things about Industrial America, principally, wishing to know how this Nation keeps so many men at work at such high wages. The visitors were received by the President recently. The President had not very much to say, as usual, but what he did say meant much. At one point of the conversation he said: "American workmen work."

Anyone who has observed the effect of the English "Dole" the English "Old Age Pensions" and the English "muddling" in dealing with the coal miners of the British Isles will fully understand what the President meant when he said: "American workmen work."

Every now and then a foreign writer has a fling at the "money soul" of America. England in turn points a critical finger at our "materialism." Merle Thorpe, Editor of "Nations Business" wants to know whether or not it is "so discreditable a thing to be prosperous, to make ends meet, to desire greater comforts and conveniences, to labor to acquire them." Must a man be belly-hungry before he can be mind and soul-hungry? Is it a virtue to be workless and hopeless."

The American Capitalist works just as hard as the American workman. He is not a mere "materialist." No great Capitalist has ever lived in the United States who has not possessed a very vivid imagination. He acquired his capital by using that imagination and his God-given brain. For what purpose has he worked? Has it been to amass millions that he might spend it in idleness and luxury? The least idle man in America is the great Capitalist. The most abstemious liver is the great Capitalist. The man who really spends less in proportion to what he possesses upon luxuries is the great Capitalist. What does he do with his money? He puts it at work in the creation of great things. The creation of these things means the employment of thousands and thousands of American workmen at high wages.

The great American workman possesses an imagination also and in his work he uses that imagination and creates "materialistic" things.—Yes, and very beautiful and useful things.

If this be "materialism," let the nation continue to be "materialistic."

"Heigho! What a puzzle is life" said he.
"If money were peace then the rich would be
The happiest men in the world, but-oh!
The rich will tell you this isn't so.

"If work were the source of this world's delight
The eyes of the toilers would all be bright.
Yet there's many an ache in the worker's breast,
And many a weary man longs for rest.

"Though rest is sweet when a man is tired
It isn't all that can be desired.
For world-wide over the fact is true
Are sad men looking for work to do.

"If health were happiness, full complete
Then only the strong would find life sweet.
But souls heroic we can recall,
Who have smiled on the world without health at all.

And we rise to peace or to gloom we sink
Not by what we have but by what we think."

BRIEF CONSIDERATIONS

Many persons are inclined to be despondent about our American system of jurisprudence when there is an obvious and scandalous miscarriage of justice. A notorious crook murders his wife and is acquitted by a sentimental jury sitting around a Christmas tree, and we hear again, "Our courts are terrible. No justice in them."

The conclusion isn't warranted. Let us say, rather, that our courts are human. Men and women make a mess of it rather often when they try to judge one another's motives and degrees of guilt.

But our courts do remarkably well, considering that they are not endowed with more than human wisdom. I think professional juries would be better than amateur juries. I think a bench of three or five judges, not necessarily all trained in the law, would render more just verdicts than can be had under the existing system. But I do not know. It's easy to suggest changes, but quite often the changes, when made, are disappointments.

Charles Lindbergh is sitting on top of the world. To him, every point on the horizon is south. And he remains calm and apparently without pride. Every time he goes up for another long hop I am worried lest he fall and kill himself. We may have to wait two centuries for another figure so striking and so calm.

Quarrels generally grow out of a lack of a balanced sense of values. Suppose you are right and the other fellow wrong. What of it? Is the question at issue worth fighting about? Is your rightness so insecure in your own mind that you must demonstrate it by making a lot of unhappiness for yourself and for others?

I know several individuals whose sense of proportionate values is so undeveloped that they might be expected to risk their lives in a big fire to save the telephone directory.

Whom shall we choose for president of the United States next time? As I may have told you heretofore, I take little interest in party politics, and belong to no political party. I have only this suggestion to offer. We do not need the best brains in the country in the White House. Some of our most practical presidents have been men of mediocre minds. Some of the most brilliant men we have had in the presidency have made the office a nightmare. Let us save our brainiest men for useful work, and give the presidency to some honest, capable, but not necessarily brilliant individual.

Tax Reduction Move Delayed

Democrats To Open War On Plan To Delay Action On Tax Bill

MAKING PLANS FOR MOVE IN CONGRESS

By MAURITZ A. HALLGREN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Blocked at every turn by a solid Republican lineup, the Democratic minority in the Senate prepared today to declare open war on the administration plan to let the house tax reduction bill sleep in the senate finance committee until March 15.

Defocratic leaders saw their last chance of acting through regular legislative channels wiped out when the committee voted, 11 to 9, to defer consideration of the measure. The fight will now be carried to the floor of the Senate, where it is hoped that with Republican insurgent support the committee will be ordered to take up the tax question.

A series of conferences were initiated by Democratic members of the committee today, at which the strategy to be followed will be mapped out. When the campaign plan is drawn up, Senator Harrison (D.) of Mississippi said the Democrats will swing into action. It is expected that the battle will be led by Harrison, Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking democrat on the committee, and Senator Glass of Virginia.

Harrison indicated that the ensuing debate would be more spirited than those which have attended consideration of the McMaster tariff resolution and the Smith-Vare controversy.

"We haven't the slightest intention" he said, "of letting this bill sleep in the committee. Our plans have not matured yet, but we will hold a number of conferences in the next day or so to decide just what tactics we will adopt."

Assails Smoot

In a preliminary skirmish Harrison arraigned Senator Smoot (R) of Utah, chairman of the finance committee, charging him with having changed his mind several times on the tax question. Last summer, the Mississippi member recalled, Smoot stated at his home in Utah and again at the summer White House in South Dakota "that he favored action by this congress taking up tax reduction immediately after it met."

Harrison contended that Smoot had urged President Coolidge to call an extra session of congress to consider the question because he thought it would be difficult to put a tax bill through both houses before March 15.

"I do not want to call it hypocrisy," Harrison said, "but I would like an explanation of why the senator from Utah changed his mind."

The Mississippi senator also asserted that last August Smoot favored a cut of $300,000,000 and was now opposed to a reduction greater than $250,000,000.

Smoot denied both charges.

Discussing the reluctance of the Republicans to press for action on the pending bill, Simmons said:

"Some attribute it to the intense opposition of the secretary of the treasury to the amendment made in the house by the Democrats with respect to consolidated returns."

They are: Acoma, Amaco, Arapaho, Beowaee, Boise, Cayuse, Bucoda, Chemung, Cherokee, Cheyenne, Chinook, Hiawatha, Ilwaco, Laramie, Latah, Manito, Menoken, Manitoka, Mocomema, Multnomah, Nahcotta, Nampa, Oshkosh, Omaha, Oketo, Pocatella, Saginaw, Shoshone, Ticaska, Topeka, Wahoo, Walla Walla, Wyoming and what have you?

These are better than Philadelphia, Boston, New York, New Jersey and such like.

Why didn't they call New York, Manhattan, and Boston, Shawmut, and give them names like Chicago and Kalamazoo? They sound better and they smack of the country more.

After all there is only one class of aboriginals, as far as we know; they are the Indians. Our forefathers found them here when they came and, it is said, they first fell on their knees and then upon the Aborigines. They have given almost the whole country English or artificial names. But out here in the Pacific Northwest, places are unspoiled and keep the Indian names.

The white man may have made the East, but God made the West.

As Frank Miller of Riverside says: "God made Northern California, and by G— we made Southern California ourselves." But Southern California is full of Spanish names, not Indian.

Personally, I prefer the Indian.

GETTING ACTION

If we were laying down a program for mankind or at least for the United States of America for the year 1928 we would say that the time had come for a major effort to "do something about something." For years the newspapers and magazines have been full of investigations into a hundred different things—their causes and effects. The archives are full of long reports and findings and conclusions. There are organizations of every conceivable sort to study and learn about every conceivable thing. We run down in theory the causes of the crime wave and flaming youth and hard times and high prices and unhappy farmers, etc. But we are not in the habit of doing anything about anything. When shall we begin to act on our conclusions? When shall we begin to do something about things?

WORK AT IT

A Columbia professor says science is going to try and abolish unhappiness from the home. Well and good. Let scientific methods do their best. But the best way to abolish unhappiness from the home is for those who live in the home to make a real honest-to-goodness effort to be harmonious, to be thoughtful, to be kind.

COURTESY

Much talk about courtesy as the rule of the road. Let's not keep courtesy outdoors all the time. Why not try making courtesy the rule of the home?

WHEN WE HAVE JUSTICE—

We will have peace, for justice is the mother of peace.
We will have equality of opportunity but not of ability.
We will have a minimum of poverty and a maximum of industry.
We shall have a progress in which all can have a share.
We shall have the beginning of the kingdom of heaven.
We will have a foundation of government which no radical can shake.
We shall know more about God and care less about creeds.

In Day's News

Dr. Frank J. Goodnow who today enters upon his 70th year, is president of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore and is a leading authority in the United States on government. So much so that some 15 years ago he served as political adviser to the Republic of China. He has been a prolific author of weighty books dealing with politics and administration, administrative law, taxation and municipal government. President Goodnow had his cultural education at Amherst college and his professional education at Columbia University. This was supplemented by study in Paris and Berlin. Returning to the United States he became an instructor in history and in administrative law at Columbia University, rising in course of time to be dean of the department of political science. Since 1914 he has been president of Johns Hopkins University.

Find Ancient Bones In Excavations In English Villages

(International News Service)

RAINHAM, Eng., Jan. 18.—The importance of Great Britain as a field for further archeological survey has been borne out by several important discoveries during excavations here.

Bones which are believed to have belonged to two ancient Britons who were buried at about the time of Julius Caesar's invasion, were found in a stone coffin which was unearthed two feet beneath the surface.

The coffin was hewn from a solid block, while the lid was composed of two large stone slabs and several smaller stones. Fragments of bone were found inside.

A quantity of rubbish was also found inside the coffin, but one interesting discovery was a horn drinking vessel. Two clap pots, one almost spherical and without ornamentation, and the other about five inches high and bearing traces of crude design, constituted the remainder of the discoveries.

The finds are expected to be turned over to experts of the British Museum for thorough examination.

G. S. Earnshaw of 204 Homer St., Youngstown, Ohio, reported to the police here this morning, that he was driving east on Grant street, crossing Jefferson street, when a car of the Petterson Service Company, ran into his machine as he crossed Jefferson street. Some damage was done.

Find Clothing In Vacant House

Had Been Stolen Some Time Ago At The Levine And Miller Store

Early this morning Officers Thomas and Richards found several articles of clothing on the second floor of a vacant house next door to the bakery of Alpern and Katz. It is located at 28 East Long avenue. The clothing found is a part of that taken some time ago, when the store of Levine and Miller was entered and robbed. The police have several clues that may result in the solution of the case.

Treser And Wilson Will Make Survey

Will Investigate Conditions In Hamilton Street On Line District

W. Stanley Treser and Leslie Wilson, well known civil engineers of this city, have been selected by City Solicitor R. M. White to make the survey of the Hamilton street district in behalf of the city, to gain information with which the city can combat the request of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Electric company for permission to abandon street car service on the Hamilton street line.

While they are engaged to secure data for the city they will interview the people of that district and secure all possible information relative to the use and need of the street car line, which the company desires to abandon. They will present the information secured at the hearing before the public service commission next week, when the petition of the street car corporation is up for consideration by that body.

Y.M.C.A. Boys Will Have Joint Banquet

Bible Clubs And Hi-Y Organizations Will Meet Thursday Evening

A meeting of the Employed Boys Brotherhood, sponsored by the New Castle Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of completing a constitution and establishing by-laws, will take place Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, announces Henry McNichols, assistant physical director, who is in charge of organization.

At the last meeting of the organization, 18 boys applied for membership. Age limits are from 13 to 16 years. Any boy who wishes to become a member of the club should get in touch with Mr. McNichols at the Y. M. C. A. immediately.

Find Abandoned Car On South Side

Two Eureka sweepers with attachments for three sweepers, also a salesman's dope sheet and book were found by the police Tuesday in a Chevrolet sedan bearing an Ohio license, which had apparently been abandoned at Reynolds street and Pollock avenue earlier in the day. The Youngstown agency for the sweepers has been notified and will send a representative here to look over the stuff, while the local agency is also checking up on the machine found and which are now in the police station. There is a possibility that the sweepers and car may have been stolen, but this has not yet been established by the police authorities.

Aged Woman Severely Burned When Heating Stove Is Exloded

Mrs. Savilla Barge Badly Burned On Hands And Arms This Morning

Mrs. Savilla Barge of 1904 Hamilton street, was severely burned this morning when about 10:30 o'clock a heating stove in her home suddenly exploded blowing off the pipe.

Mr. Barge who lives alone attempted to put up the pipe again so the house would not get afire and was severely burned about the hands and arms.

Neighbors were attracted by the commotion and helped get things in shape again and helped her dress her burns.

Inspection Of New East Brook-Volant Road This Afternoon

Representative Of State Highways Department Goes Over Route With Contractors

A. J. Curran of the regional offices of the Pennsylvania state highways office at Franklin met with several prospective contractors for the new cement road to be built from East Brook to Volant and is going over the proposed route of the two miles that will be let on January 27.

Mr. Curran says that in that way they expect to help the contractors in formulating their bids and also by explaining the plans while on the ground there is less chance for misunderstanding.

Many Complain About Activities Of Boys' Gangs

There is an epidemic at the present time of calls made to the police from all parts of the city concerning groups of boys, who are acting in a disorderly manner, destroying property and disturbing the peace of the communities in which they are active. There was an unusually large number of these calls last night. The police are making every effort within their power to put a stop to this nuisance.

City Hospitality Aid To Motorists

Touring Is Becoming More And More Delight To Travellers Says Hanlon

That genuine hospitality is being shown by a vastly larger number of cities, large and small, is an achievement in which the motor club can take the greatest pride. This fact is pointed out by Bernard N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club, who declares that the broaded understanding between the community and the visitor has served to make touring more of a delightful adventure than ever before.

"Good roads and better cars, together with a broader and more thorough-going service given by the motor clubs generally, are regarded as the most important factors in the growth of the motor touring movement," says Mr. Hanlon. "That evaluation of the situation is correct as far as it goes, but one cannot lose sight of the remarkably improved attitude toward the motor wayfarer that is being shown in all parts of the country.

"This club and the hundreds of others affiliated with the American Automobile association, have worked for many years to gain the cooperation of muncipal officials in putting to rout those who have pretended to play host to the motor traveler only that they might prey upon him. The necessary cooperation has been granted, and cities everywhere are seeing to it that the tourist is treated as a worthy guest and not as a stranger, to be imposed upon and victimized. Towns and cities which have not taken this attitude have paid the inevitable penalty of being passed by."

Palestine Monument Is Growing Forest

JERUSALEM, Jan. 18.—King Peter of Jugoslavia is to be paid tribute by his Jewish subjects in the form of a wood to be planted in his name in Palestine the recent conference of Jugoslavian Zionists decided. One million dinars are to be raised for the purpose, over and above the regular quota for the Jewish national fund, which is to carry out the planting on one of its estates.

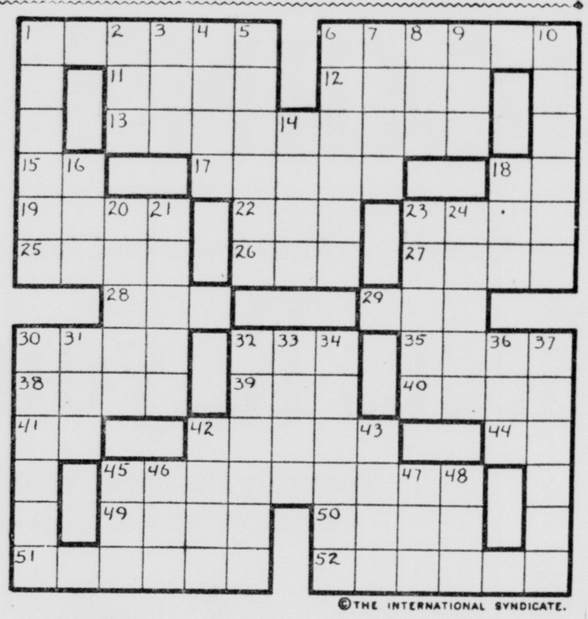

This effort for the reforestation of Palestine follows the announcement of the campaign for a Balfour forest in Palestine undertaken by the Jewish naitonal fund in Great Britain. Ex-Premier Lloyd George has accepted the patronage of this scheme.

The directors of the Jewish national fund in Jerusalem trust that Jewish Arbor day on February 6, when the planting season commences in Palestine, will mark this year a considerable advance in the receipts of the tree fund.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

INTO THE SUNLIGHT IN SPITE OF HIMSELF

Screech Owl sounded anything but cordial, but Peter did not intend to let a little thing like that stand in the way of his finding out what he wanted to know. Somehow, in spite of the terrible things that Blue Jay had said about the owl, the boy did not feel in the least afraid of the fellow.

"Oh, you need not pretend that you do not know who is knocking at your door, Screech Owl," called Peter. "You were looking down at me only a moment or two ago, and you better not deny it, for I saw your eye peeping out of this hole as plain as could be. I climbed up here just as fast as I could come just on purpose so that you would not fall asleep before I reached you. And now that I am here you might as well come on out and talk to me, for I shall not go away until you do. Anyhow, I believe that you would feel much better if you didn't drowse so much. It is a perfect shame to nap away a day like this."

"If I hadn't known before who you were I should most certainly guess now," grumbled the Screech Owl. "Nobody but a human would ever dare to speak to me like that. Well, if I must talk to you, I must, so I might as well make the best of things, as you say. I should like to ask you, though, how you would like to be dragged out of bed like this by a perfect stranger. Here I am, however. Come now. What do you wish to know? Where have you taken yourself to, my fine young two-legs? It seems to me that the least you could do after I have taken all the trouble to get up out of my nice warm bed is to stay around where I can see you."

"Stay around where you can see me.

I HAVE TO TURN MY HEAD WAY ROUND EVERY TIME I WANT TO SEE ANYTHING.

Well, I like that!" exclaimed Peter in great surprise. "I am standing right here by the side of your doorstep. All that you have to do is to turn your eyes this way."

"That is just exactly the trouble!" complained Screech Owl crossly. "I can't turn my eyes. They are fixed firmly in their sockets and I can't roll them like the other birds do. You have no idea how inconvenient it is. I have to twist my head around every time I want to see anything. Now, if you were standing in front of my door I could look at you without coming out into the sunlight. Since you are off at the side I shall have to stir myself. Dear! Dear! How that light does bother me!"

Grumbling all the while, Screech Owl poked his tufted head out of the hollow in the tree and lazily pulled his body out after it. Staring blindly straight ahead with wide-open, yellow-rimmed eyes, it seemed to Peter that even though the bird knew just where he was it was some time before he actually saw the boy.

"Shay! Shay!" hissed Screech Owl irritably. "As if it wasn't bad enough to be chased into the house by those hateful screeching Blue Jays now I have to be forced to lose more sleep and, what is worse, to sit out here in the blinding sunlight—which I simply detest—to answer a lot of fool questions.

"If you really wanted to visit me why didn't you come tonight? I could see you better then—now I can barely make out your form, you know, and besides I would have been in a much better humor, after a fine day's sleep. Why did you come to bother me, anyhow?"

Westminster Girls Plan For Series Of School Debates

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan 18. Women's debate schedule for the coming spring has been announced today by the Alpha Sigma Alpha, the honorary women's forensic sorority at Westminster. According to arrangements University of Pennsylvania, Waynesburg college, Juniata college, Grove City college and Geneva will be the opponents.

In the second week in May the University of Pennsylvania women's team will be here on a western trip. A dual debate will be held this year with Waynesburg on March 15 The negative Westminster team will journey to Waynesburg to meet their affirmative team and the Waynesburg team will be at New Wilmington to meet the Westminster negative team.

Juniata negative team will come here on the week of April 9 to debate the Westminster affirmative team. The date of the annual Grove City, Geneva and Westminster triangular debate has not yet been decided upon. Negotiations are also being contemplated with Marietta college for a debate.

As the varsity subject of discussion the question, Resolved, "That the system of primary elections for the state and national offices should be abandoned," will be used in all the debates.

Anniversary Is Observed

Rev. S. R. Maitland Celebrates His 25th Spiritual Birthday Tuesday

MANY MINISTERS SHARE PROGRAM

A very large crowd of friends and admirers of the Rev. Samuel Maitland gathered at the Greenwood church Tuesday, January 17, for the purpose of celebrating with him the 25th anniversary of his spiritual birth.

The program of the afternoon was preceeded by a luncheon, served at noon by the ladies of the Greenwood church.

Immediately following the luncheon those present assembled in the church auditorium, and the program started by the Rev. G. R. Krupp reading the 23rd Psalm, which was followed by a prayer, by the Rev. George M. Landis. A selection was then rendered by the Edgar Thomson Steel quartet, after which the Rev. Maxwell, Sniff, Krupp, Henderson, Childs, Landis, Stratton, Petrie, Dr. Neigh, Dr. Crowe, Mrs. Margaret Speer Gibson, Dr. Straub, Dr. Copeland and Captain Parkins of the Salvation Army all offered their felicitations.

All of the pastors complimented the Rev. Maitland on the excellent service that he has rendered to the Christian cause since his spiritual birthday 25 years ago. Several other selections were also rendered by the Edgar Thomson Steel quartet. Following the addresses of the ministers, The Hon Fredrick A. Wallis, deputy police commissioner and commissioner of crime correction of New York city, was presented, and delivered an excellent talk on the true Christian spirit.

Following Mr. Wallis' address, another selection was rendered by the Edgar Thomson Steel quartet, after which the Rev. Stratton closed the meeting with prayer and benediction.

In repairing from the church auditorium to the dining hall those present formed into a line of march, and, led by the quartet, marched to the strains of "Onward Christian Soldiers".

Those present dispersed in wishing the Rev. Maitland many more years of active service in the Christian cause.

MISS SALOMON NAMED AS HEAD OF QUOTA CLUB

Annual Election Of Officers At Meeting Last Night At Elk's Club

Officers for the coming year were elected by the members of the New Castle Quota Club when they held their annual dinner meeting last evening at the Elks Club. A special guest of honor was Miss Retta M. Emerson, first vice president of Quota International of Wilmington, Del.

Miss Emilie Salomon, art supervisor in the New Castle public schools, will serve as president of the local Quota Club for the coming year. Other officers who were elected are as follows: Miss Martha Bigley, first vice president; Dr. Mildred Rogers, second vice president; Miss Myra Ackerman, third vice president; Miss Lillian Boyd, treasurer. Directors for two years: Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and Miss Mildred Hazen. Directors for one year: Mrs. Gladys Rosenthal and Miss Lillian Boyd.

Following the election of officers Dr. Emerson, who made the address when Crawford Oakridge home for girls was dedicated in October, talked to the members of the club on "Quota Ideals".

It was reported by the Crawford Oakridge committee that all repairs on the home will be completed in a short time and again the home will be ready for occupancy.

WILL DISCUSS CHURCH PLANS THIS EVENING

To discuss further developments of the plans to relocate the First United Presbyterian church, which was recently destroyed by fire, there will be a joint meeting of the board of directors of the church, together with the sessions, this evening in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A. immediately following prayer meeting.

In announcing the meeting J. Clyde Gilfillan further stated that no definite action would be taken at this time and that the meeting is called for the purpose of discussing the current trends of opinion. Final action in regard to the relocating of the church or rebuilding on the present site will be taken at a congregational meeting which will be held in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium Monday evening, Jan. 23.

CAN CORN, NOT CORN LIQUOR

Many a woman who has bottled bootleg liquor is being taught to can corn in one of the most unique prisons in the world. It is in the West Virginia Alleghenies near Alderson. The prison, which now houses 150 feminine lawbreakers, is a school of domestic arts and, oddly enough, the superintendent, Dr. Mary B. Harris, shown above, is a former school teacher. The prison is a monument to the efforts of millions of members of 14,000 women's clubs of the nation who petitioned congress in 1923 to provide better quarters for female federal prisoners. An enabling act was passed the same year.

Two Auto Cases Are On Trial At Court Today

One Resulted In Wrecking Of Car And Other Is For Personal Injuries

Two cases growing out of automobile accidents, the last on the list to be tried this week, were taken up at Lawrence county court this morning.

Before Judge Hildebrand the case of Samuel Gagland, by his father, Salvatore Gagland, against George McAnlis was called for trial.

Samuel Gagland was playing with some other children on Lafayette street in the seventh ward, when a string of new automobiles came along. Free samples of candy were being thrown from the cars and Samuel Gagland was among the children scrambling for them. While he was so doing Marshall McAnlis came along, driving the car of his father, George McAnlis.

It is claimed that he did not slacken his speed and was not taking ordinary precautions when his car struck the Gagland boy. Both of the boy's legs were broken and he was otherwise seriously injured, being confined to the house for ten weeks after the accident. It is claimed that he has not yet fully recovered. Damages in the sum of $12,000 are claimed, $10,000 for the boy and $2,000 for the father.

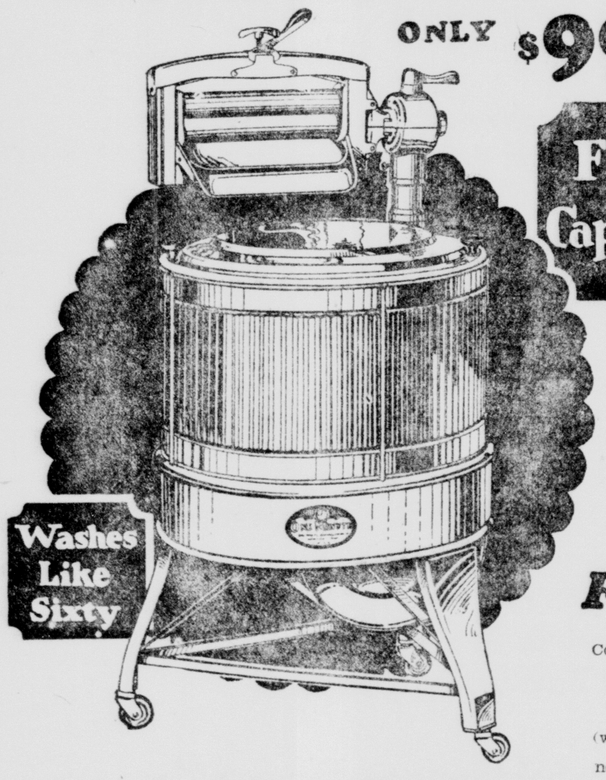

In court room No. 2 Judge Chambers is trying the case of Lee G. Hartzell against Samuel A. Gettings. This case grew out of a collision on the Harlansburg road. Damage of $341.71 is claimed by Hartzell, who alleges that the accident was due to the careless driving of Gettings, who was over the center of the road.

Verdict Returned For Defendant In Gorge Ride Case

W. H. Glenn Wins In Suit Brought By Mrs. Price For Death Of Her Husband

Verdict in favor of the defendant was returned in Lawrence county court by the jury in the case of Mrs. Agnes Price against W. H. Glenn for the death of her husband, Thomas Price, who was killed on the gorge ride at Cascade park. The case went to the jury Tuesday afternoon and a verdict was reached before 9 o'clock. It was returned when court convened this morning.

Testimony for the defense showed that the car in which Thomas had been riding was in good working order, and that after Thomas had fallen out it went around the course and returned in good shape. It was also shown that the car was standard equipment and that there was nothing in its operation to contribute toward the accident.

It was the first suit that has ever been brought for the death of any person, although thousands have ridden on the gorge ride.

COMMUNITY CHEST SURVEY

Report Of General Organizations Company As Made For Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson As Result Of Action Taken At Community Chest Fund Workers' Campaign—Being Published In Sections

Another installment of the report of the General Organization Company of Chicago, of the survey made of the Community Chest and other organizations receiving public support here, as submitted to Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, at whose expense the survey was made, is presented today.

In the survey, the idea was to investigate all of the agencies and make recommendations which might be for the betterment of the management of any or all of them. The News is presenting the facts in the survey as reported by the General Organization Company and submitted to the Chest board directors and the agencies, insofar as they concern the organizations.

Today's report deals with the Salvation Army, and is as follows:

THE SALVATION ARMY.

The Salvation Army is incorporated and the charter is in the New York office. The local organization is under the direct management of the divisional office at Pittsburgh. The local board of directors acts as an advisory board and there are no minutes written up at the meetings.

The following provisions are contained in the "Orders and Regulation for Officers of The Salvation Army":

"Its Purpose—Salvation. The word 'salvation' indicates the purpose of the organization; namely, inducing all men to submit to God, embrace the Salvation provided for them in Christ, accept Jehovah as their Sovereign, obey His laws, and spend their lives in the loving service of those about them, thereby enjoying the favour of God both here and hereafter."

"Official Name: The Official name of the Organization is 'The Salvation Army'."

The Salvation Army is a religious organization and is not organized for charitable work. During the year ended October 31, 1927, the New Castle unit of The Salvation Army expended the sum of $637.69 for material relief. Of this amount $406.74 was spent for Christmas baskets, $112.36 for groceries given out, and $118.59 for miscellaneous items of charity. The National and Divisional Headquarters receive $400.00 and 10% of the receipts, amounting, during the past year, to $786.65.

Considerable time is devoted to visiting the homes of people and giving them whatever help or advice is possible. During the year, 198 outdoor meetings and 247 indoor meetings were held. Eighteen people were converted during the year.

The Salvation Army in New Castle is under strict management of the Pittsburgh office and is audited regularly by that office.

A statement of cash receipts and disbursements follows:

Her Last Party!

Never Neglect Sore Throat

She laughed at her mother. "It's only a sore throat," she said, and went to the party. But there was a long wait for a taxi when the party was over. The night was chill. The next day she felt wretched. Still she did nothing about it. "Just a cold," she repeated—In ten days she was critically ill—her last party that winter.

When will people begin to realize the folly of neglecting a cold or sore throat?

Neglected, these apparently trivial ailments may lead shortly to serious illness or even death.

At the first suspicion of trouble, go to bed, eat wisely, and gargle systematically with Listerine, the safe antiseptic, used full strength. If immediate improvement is not shown, consult your physician.

In the past fifty years, however, Listerine has checked thousands and thousands of cold weather complaints before they had a chance to become serious. This is due to its antiseptic action. The instant it enters the mouth it attacks the disease-producing bacteria that develops there.

Your chance of escaping colds or dangerous "flu" and pneumonia will be considerably bettered by the systematic every day use of this pleasant antiseptic. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

To Make Address To High Students

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 18.—President W. Charles Wallace of Westminster will be the principal speaker at the mid-year commencement exercises in the Swissvale high school Friday night, according to word received here from Superintendent D. W. Kelso of the Swissvale schools.

Other speaking engagements for President Wallace which have been announced recently include an address in the New Castle Y. W. C. A. Saturday afternoon, Feb. 25, at the state student conference of the Y. M. C. A. Dr. Wallace will speak on the subject, "Christian Educational Values". Dr. R. J. Love, professor of Bible at Westminster, will be a group devotional leader at this same conference.

In the old days guests were taken in by means of a drawbridge instead of draw poker.

President's Son Gets School Honor

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 18.—Word was received here yesterday that Charles A. Wallace, member of the class of 1926 at Westminster, and son of President and Mrs. W. Charles Wallace, was elected to the editorial staff of the University of Pennsylvania Law Journal.

Election to the Law Journal is based on scholastic achievement during the first two years, and members of the board are seldom selected until the end of the second year. Wallace is a second year man at the law school and has maintained a high average in his studies. While at Westminster he was an honor student.

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—On upper Broadway is a store that seems to be perpetually changing hands. The proprietors are, in all cases, vendors patent medicines and cure-alls; the variety of fakers that outside of New York carry a band of kootchy dancers, native born "wild men" and magicians. Under the law they are able to assert vocally that their medicines have properties which, if printed on the label, would mean fine or imprisonment by government authorities.

Recently a black-masked young man, with an inability to pronounce sibilants, told of the horrors of a tooth disease which he is alleged to have suffered. His medicine, of course, would cure it. So depressing a picture do these gentlemen paint of their favorite ills that many a wide-eyed spectator is terrified into buying. He also goes home with the same gloomy thoughts. No advocate of further legislation, I could sympathize with a law barring these extremely harmful boogey-men.

A story appeared in the papers about a man who tried to rob a safe when his wife and children were starving. Caught outside a building he had naively expected to accomplish the job with a hack saw, some gunpowder, soap (to soften the metal) and a crowbar. When he explained his predicament, after he was taken to the station house, he received (a) $20, collected by the big-hearted cops, according to one paper; (b) $25, according to another sheet, and (c) $30, according to a third. What he actually did receive was $7. A reporter whom I know actually got this information from the family. Yet his paper could hardly print the fact after the others had raised the ante. It would have peeved the gendarmes, to say the least.

This changing world inevitably breeds misfortunes. With the opening of the vehicular tunnel to New Jersey, the number of ferries has been greatly reduced. Behold the sad spectacle of old-timers, for years, proud of their posts as pilots on the boats, now forced to become deck hands or machinists or porters. Most of them are white-haired. All of them are neatly dressed. And all wear the same air of tragedy. Like the bartender in 1918, like the coachman at the start of auto travel, they are fast becoming relics.

A character in a new play is named "Ah Sung". It is an irresistible impulse to add "Mammy".

Some time ago I spoke of August ("Eagle Eye") Schalkman, the cop stationed on Williamsburg bridge, whose faculty for discovering stolen autos is beyond belief. It is interesting to note that Eagle Eye has just brought in and witnessed his one hundred and fourth conviction in this type of thievery.

No young man could resist this lovely plea, presented in Bernarr McFadden's "Lonely Heart" department.

"I'm five feet five, have skin that's fair, gray-green eyes and chestnut hair. Just 21 years of pep and mirth, of Protestant faith, American birth. I can ride and dance, swim and skate, but find I'm lonesome here of late. I'm tired of sheiks and cavemen, too. May I offer the finest of friendships to you?"

And Charles Mosconi's definition of love is:

"The last word in a telegram."

* * *

In the subway today I sat next to a man who was absorbed in a large volume of music. It had no lyrics; only the cryptic symbols for musical notes. On and on, he read, and while doing so, beat time with his fingers on the volume. This seems to me the very peak to which a man can train his sensory faculties and his imagination.

To Give Recital Thursday Night

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 18.—Alan B. Davis, director of the Westminster Conservatory, will give the first of a series of recitals in the United Prersbyterian church here tomorrow evening.

Mr. Davis announced Saturday that the faculty of the Conservatory will, from time to time, give recitals for the students, faculty and general public, and that each recital will be free of charge.

Miss Jessie Mockel of New Castle, dean of the conservatory and professor of piano and organ, will be Mr. Davis' accompanist tomorrow night.

High Chair Vs. Electric Chair

Place To Correct Crime Is In Home Declares Police Authority

HON. F. A. WALLIS MAKES ADDRESS

Frederick A. Wallis, commissioner of correction for the city of New York, addressed a gathering estimated at 300 in the First Methodist Episcopal church Tuesday evening, Jan. 17. It was a return engagement for Commissioner Wallis, his first appearance being in the Scottish Rite Cathedral some months ago.

In his address he dwelt upon the present crime wave, the prohibition question, immigration and the solution of our crime problem as applied to men and women under 25 years of age.

High Chair Vs. Electric Chair

"The place to correct crime is in the home," he said. "The high chair is worth 1,000 electric chairs. The young men and young women of today are the best the world has ever known. There has never been a time when young people accomplished so much. But the religious and moral training of the youth are being neglected. There are 53,000,000 men and women under 25 in this country. Of this number 37,000,000 are without religious or moral training. Seven out of 10, in other words, and here is the hotbed of sedition and crime."

While he did not go on record as favoring capital punishment, yet Mr. Wallis did draw attention to the large number of homicides in this country. For every murder in England we have 10 in the United States, he said.

Mr. Wallis declared that prohibition can be enforced and that it was being enforced as well as other laws. "The future generations of this country will not know the taste of whisky," he declared.

Economy has become the slogan of the day.

In state, country and city government the vital issue has become the saving of money, and yet many remain blind to the enormous cost of crime.

Some time ago E. H. Smith, in the Business Magazine, spoke from authoritative source and said:

"The total annual levy crime places upon this country is probably not less than ten billion dollars."

This sum is about three times the national budget for 1923, and more than three times the customs and internal revenue receipts and 12 times annual cost of the army and navy combined.

The American Bankers' Association states that the money losses from crime in one year (1924) were four billion dollars.

Rev. E. A. Crooks, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, presided, with Rev. W. W. Sniff and Rev. Samuel R. Maitland assisting. A feature of the evening was the appearance of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works quartet, secured through the courtesy of O. J. H. Hartsuff, general manager of the plant in Braddock, Pa. The quartet is a splendid musical organization and added much to the interest of the meeting.

The second address of Commissioner Wallis was as interesting as his first. He is a man of wide experience, of versatile talents and interesting delivery.

American Shooters To Invade Scotland For Coming Season

(International News Service)

EDINBURGH, Jan. 18.—If an ambitious scheme which has been arranged by the Cunard Shipping company achieves the success that it hoped for by company officials, Scotland will be invaded by hosts of American sportsmen when the shooting begins this year.

The company, with the idea of inducing Americans to visit Scotland, has obtained the tenancy of famous sporting estates all over the country. Inclusive rates will be offered to cover all charges for dogs, keepers and all the many necessities of those who follow the sport of the moors.

One of the estates which has been obtained is that of the Duke of Atholl at Perthshire. Another is Achnacarry, Invernesshire, the property of Cameron of Lochiel.

It is hoped that many wealthy Americans, who will thus be relieved of making their own arrangements, will take advantage of the scheme.

German Air Mail Six Months Late To Come By Ship

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Jan. 18. — Americans who had expected to receive the first air-mail from Europe may receive it instead by ordinary post six months late. The German postal authorities have finally returned to the senders the letters and postcards carried by the Junkers trans-ocean airplanes the "Europa" and "Bremen" on their abortive attempt to be first across the Atlantic, and which were later sent down to the Azores with the hydroplane "D-1230."

The charge for letters was seven dollars, and that for postcards three dollars.

Many of the senders will avail themselves of the government's offer to refund the money, but enthusiastic collectors of souvenirs will forward the letters by regular mail to America, for despite the fact that they were not carried by air across the ocean, few letters have had more adventurous viccissitudes.

Business Women Hear Of Furniture

Seventy-five members of the Business and Professional Women's Club heard a most interesting illustrated talk at the meeting here Monday evening on "Furniture of Yesterday and Today" by Mrs. Redenbaugh of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Redenbaugh stressed the fact that even as far back as the times of the Egyptian Pharaohs men sought to make chairs more than something to sit on, stressing comfort even then. The oldest existing beds and chairs are Egyptian.

Every age has ornamentation and has embellished its furniture in proportion to its own limitations in social, religious and political endeavor. A period is an era of time in which there is a dominating influence. History reveals the fact that this influence affected the style of architecture decoration.

Furniture has always affected the modes and manners of the times, the tastes and ideals of the people, the conditions under which the people are living, and the influences which were paramount at the time.

The subject of furniture was well covered and much information of value was given to club members.

TRAINED GEESE DO THEIR STUFF, THIEF "GOES UP"

JEFFERSON, Ind., Jan. 18.—Because the trained geese of Bertram Coombs of Memphis, Ind., did their "stuff" when he found them in the store of a New Albany poultry dealer, Coombs got back his honking pets and Lawrence Ehringer, 17, must serve one to 10 years in the state reformatory.

Coombs, following the trail of his geese, recognized them at the poultry house and convinced the proprietor they belonged to him when he dueted them in a vaudeville act. The dealer identified Ehringer as the boy who sold the educated geese.

DELINQUENTS IN DOG LICENSES ARRESTED

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 18.—A large number of citizens of Butler were taken before Alderman C. G. Phillips yesterday for violation of the state dog law in connection with the securing of license for their animals.

Representatives of the state are working in the city today, and it is expected that many more persons will be arrested and fined for not securing a license for their animals.

Every dog in the city, regardless of whether it is confined to the home, yard or on other private property, must have a license.

STRUCK BY TREE; MAN IS KILLED

CLARION, Pa., Jan. 18.—Bird M. Reed of Venus, who had his head crushed by a tree falling on him on a woods road while resting his horses, died from injuries.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: Charles, Genevieve and Martha, at home; Mrs. Grace Johnston of Warren, Fred and Roy Reed of Detroit, Mich., and Don and Ray Reed of Bradford.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

For the meatless meal, which every family should have occasionally, we will use a little cheese with our baked potatoes. If you want to use the oven for cooking the onions as well as the potatoes, peel them, slice in buttered baking dish, and pour hot, seasoned milk over them. Dissolve tablespoon of butter in the milk. Cover with bread crumbs and bake 45 minutes.

Baked Potatoes With Cheese
Cole Slaw — Creamed Onions
Apple Pie — Cheese
Milk

Today's Recipes.

Baked Potato With Cheese—Select good-sized, smooth-skinned potatoes for baking. Wash and score a cap on top of potato. Bake in a 450-degree Fahrenheit oven until tender. Remove cap and scoop out inside, add butter, salt, pepper and enough milk to moisten. Beat until fluffy. Refill shell and sprinkle with grated cheese and paprika. Brown in a hot oven. Chopped nuts may be added to the mashed potato mixture.

Cole Slaw—Two cups finely shaved cabbage, one-half teaspoon salt, dash pepper, one tablespoon sugar, one-fourth cup sour cream, two tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice. Add sugar, salt and pepper to cabbage and mix thoroughly. Pour vinegar or lemon juice slowly into milk and pour over cabbage. Keep cold until ready to serve.

Creamed Onions—One and one-half pints white onions, one teaspoon salt in water in which onions are boiled, two cups milk, two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon flour, one-half teaspoon salt, pepper, one tablespoon minced parsley. Peel onions and cook in boiling, salted water in an open kettle until tender. Drain and add a white sauce made of the milk, butter, flour, salt and pepper. Sprinkle with paraley.

SUGGESTIONS

Throw Them Out.

Never save half used medicines made from prescriptions unless advised by your physician. Time frequently causes changes in drugs which makes them dangerous when stale.

Heat Slowly.

Heat paraffin slowly and carefully, not allowing it to reach the smoking stage. If allowed to become too hot it has a tendency to separate from the sides of the jelly glass.

STUDENT IS KILLED BY TRAIN AT OBERLIN

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—Walking on the tracks of the New York Central Railroad at Oberlin, O., yesterday afternoon, John McGill, Jr., a son of John McGill, vice president of the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, was killed when struck by a passenger train.

The father said yesterday that newspaper reports were the means of his learning of his son's death, which was verified in a telephone conversation with the secretary of Oberlin College, where his son was a student.

Young McGill, who had not yet reached his nineteenth birthday, was a junior at Oberlin.

Nearly Eight Billion Dollars Is Value Of Products In State

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—Manufacturing establishments in this state turned out finished products valued $7,789,603,200 in 1926 figures for the year made public today by James F. Woodward, Secretary of Internal Affairs, reveal. The total value of these products is approximately two billion above the total for the previous year.

The figures compiled by the department's bureau of statistics show that in 1926 as in many former years, that metals and metal products led all other products in value. This class of products is credited with a production of $3,353,529,300 in 1926 or about fifty million decrease over 1925.

Textile products were next in line for value of the year's production. During 1926 the production figures were placed at $1,107,576,400 as compared with $1,121,083,000 the year previous. Metals and textiles were the only two industrial classes in the state where the production went over a billion.

Values of production in some of the other leading industries in 1926 are: chemicals, $451,813,100; clay, glass and stone products, $259,303,200; food products, $653,264,500; leather and rubber goods, $191,764,700; lumber and its re-manufacture, $145,814,900; paper and printing, $372,027,700; mines and quarries, $824,393,400; tobacco $126,250,300 and miscellaneous, $303,865,700.

Despite a falling off in productive valuation in some classes in 1926 the department figures show by grand totals that the production values in the state went above those for 1925. In 1926 there were 1,451,987 persons employed as against 1,425,951 the year previous. Pay to these workers in 1926 amounted to $2,141,538,300 while the year before it was $1,977,306,600. Capital invested in industry was $5,479,109,600 or an increase of about $102,000,000 above the 1925 totals.

Some idea of the enormity of industrial production can be gathered from tables compiled by the department. These records show that in 1926 there was produced in the state 10,946,849 gallons of alcohol; 723,105,494 gallons of gasoline; 21,221,812,800 matches; 1,086,926,542 building bricks; 42,835,939 barrels of cement; 247,002,940 pounds of confectionery; 35,542,292 gallons of ice cream; 92,262,700 ice cream cones; 17,428,336 pairs of shoes; 1,749,698 rubber tires; 39,787,765 cigar boxes; 4,013,830 dozens of handkerchiefs; 716,286 dozen hats; 71,005,581 tons of anthracite coal; 148,363,043 tons of soft coal; 748,575 tons of river coal; 12,617,375 tons of sand and gravel; 83,673,244 stogies; 2,091,708,819 cigars; 4,660,357,890 cigarets and 109,383,467 false teeth.

Cigarette smoking is the most popular form of the tobacco habit. It's so inconvenient to chew tobacco in bed.

Federal Agents Fail In Tests, Face Dismissal

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—Of the 92 federal prohibition agents attached to the local dry unit 49 failed to pass the civil service examination and face the loss of their jobs it was learned today.

Prospects of losing their jobs is having a demoralizing effect upon the work of the unfortunate agents and it is understood that Administrator John D. Pennington has appealed to Washington for a re-examination for them.

Pennington is reported to favor retention of the 49 agents who failed to pass the test, as they have survived a gradual two-year weeding out process of the administrator.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

Gleaming silverware:
enter, the villain
(hard water)

BRIGHT, gleaming silverware—one time. Not bright and gleaming now. It was washed in hard water. But the soap combined with the hard water to form a scummy ring around the basin. That water wouldn't cut the grease on the silverware!

Soft water would, though. And the hardest water can be made soft by adding Melo. Just a pinch or so—then watch the suds come! Grease can't resist that! Gleaming silverware? Yes, indeed! But use soft water. Try Melo.

TIMELY REMINDERS
From The Pennsylvania State College

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College School Of Agriculture

Thin the Farm Woodlot—Thinning out the crooked, short, bushy-crowned, diseased, slow-growing, and poor timber trees is a paying farm operation at this time of the year. Trees that are straight, tall, well-crowned, sound, fast-growing, and good timber should be saved. Where trees are too thick some should be taken out to give the remaining ones a chance to develop.

Grow a Ton Litter—February 1 is the opening date for ton litter enrollments. Better sign up with county agent and then when the litters are farrowed they can be nominated for the 1928 Ton Litter Club. Pennsylvania was first in 1927 among all states with 126 ton groups. Help keep the Keystone state first in 1928.

See State Farm Products—Be sure to attend the State Farm Products Show at Harrisburg this week. Take the family to the show and see what good farm produce can be grown in this state.

Use Grape Arbors in Landscape—Grape arbors can be used to make the farm home grounds attractive, say Pennsylvania State College landscape architects. Plan the location of these arbors so that they will fit in with the surroundings.

Poultry Records Valuable—A system of poultry records that gives the life history of the individual concerned, its ancestors and their life history, its brothers and sisters and the history of their lives, its matings, and the story of the progeny from the matings will tell the poultryman what progress he is making in his breeding work.

Chiropractors Want Examining Board

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—At least 700 chiropractors work in Pennsylvania unlicensed, because the present state health code does not include that branch of healing, it was developed here at the final hearing of the legislative commission which will report to the 1929 legislature.

Senator William C. Freeman of Lebanon county headed the commission of laymen and doctors who heard testimony bearing on the question of whether there should be a single standard qualification for all who desire to practice the art of healing in this state.

The chiropractors want an examining board composed of their own number and not of neuropaths, who are satisfied with the code as it now stands.

Declares Miners Have Lost Strike

Charleroi Newspaper Says It's Time For Miners To Return To Work

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., Jan. 18.—"The present coal strike is lost and it is time for the miners to go back to work." The Charleroi Mail, one of the largest upper Monongahela Valley Daily newspapers, declared in a statement published today.

"The miners union has been worth while and practical," the statement reads. "It has been beneficial and necessary. But to allow whole groups of families to live in want is not practical.

"Time and conditions have demonstrated that there is little likelihood of a settlement of this strike on a basis asked for by union officials. Economic conditions justify this statement. "Coal is a drug on the market. The market is glutted., prices are at a low ebb, mines everywhere in the district are operating to a capacity greater than their needs. There is little left to do but for the miner to go back to work."

Two large mines in the Charleroi district were reported as ready to reopen their pits if the miners want to return to work on an adjusted wage scale. They are the Warner mine, Fallowfield township, Washington county, employing 200 men, and the Charleroi mine of the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal company, employing approximately 350 men.

Negro Is Given Stiff Sentence In Washington, Pa.

Judge Sentences Negro Attacker To Eeighteen Months In Workhouse

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 18.—Although exonerated of murder suspicion in the death of Thelma Young, 7, three weeks ago, Russell Thomas, 20, Negro, must serve 18 months in the Allegheny county workhouse. Alderman J. F. Carmichael gave him this sentence for molesting three Washington women.

Questioning the authority of the alderman to sentence Thomas for such a long term, workhouse officials at first refused to accept the negro. There followed a conference between Warren Burchinal, Washington county district attorney, and the Allegheny county officials, which resulted in an agreement that Carmichael had power to sentence Thomas to six months on each of the three counts, the sentences to run consecutively.

Placing New 22 Ton Door In Bank Vault

Enormous Door Being Placed In New Lawrence Savings Vault

A representative of the Herrin, Hall, Marvin Safe Company is engaged in the placing of the 22 ton door in the new safe deposit vault of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, and it seems unlikely that any burglar, bandits or fire would be able to pierce its 12 inches of the best steel.

The enormous door stands nearly 7 feet high and is equipped with the most modern locking devices, having two triple-time locks and equipped with an efficient burglar alarm that will ring when the vault is tampered with the least little bit.

The safety deposit vault to which this door gives entrance is composed of 18 inches of reinforced concrete and lined completely with a 2 inch lining of laminated steel that is fire and drill proof as is also the door of the vault. The vault is about 30 feet long, 9 feet wide and 8½ feet high and has room for hundreds of safety deposit boxes of various sizes.

The vault is also equipped with two emergency doors so that if for any reason the large door fails to open access to the vault may be had by the smaller doors which are built and protected in the same way that the large door is. The vault in which the company will keep their cash, etc. will also connect with the safety deposit vault by an emergency door, so that if the locking system of that vault should fail to open access may be had through the safe deposit vault.

Besides these two vaults, a large vault is being constructed on the first and mezzanine floors for the safe keeping of the books of the company, especially the securities, etc., of the trust department of the institution. On the mezzanine floor over the lobby will be found bookkeeping department and directors rooms of the institution.

Patrons of the bank will gain entrance into the safe deposit vault by a lobby extending back through the length of the building with the windows of the cashiers on either side of the lobby. A grill will extend across the back part of the lobby and patrons will be admitted through a gateway and the large steel door of the vault.

The new rooms of the bank will be ready for occupancy about June according to F. A. Schultz, executive vice president and treasurer of the institution and althogether it will be a very beautiful arranged banking offices when finished.

Rev. L. L. Aber To Make Address At Dinner Thursday

Rev. L. Louis Aber, school administration superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, will address the afternoon session and the evening fellowship dinner guests, in connection with the mid-year efficiency conference of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association which will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday afternoon at 3:15, dinner at 6:45.

An unusually good program has been prepared for this conference the theme of which is, "Make Straight the Way". In addition to the addresses there will be reports from the departmental superintendents. The district having the best attendance at the fellowship dinner will be presented with a Christian flag.

Claims Fees For Motion Picture House Not Built

Architect J. A. Altschuler Brings Suit Against Milton Frank For $360

Architect J. A. Altschuler filed a suit against Milton Frank at the prothonotary's office today in which he is claiming $360 due from Frank for drawing plans and specifications and securing bids for a proposed motion picture house on East Washington street

Plaintiff claims that pursuant to an oral agreement he proceeded to draw the plans for a cinder block and stucco building to be erected on a lot belonging to Robert C. Young at the corner of East Washington street and Maryland avenue, Frank having an option to buy the lot.

According to the agreement Altschuler was to receive five per cent for drawing plans and superintending the construction of the building. It had been estimated that it would cost $12,000 to $15,000 but owing to changes suggested by Frank the bids secured showed that it would run more than $15,000.

It was then decided not to erect the building. Altschuler claims that in the event of the building not being erected he was to get 2½ per cent for the plans for which he is bringing suit.

Advises Against Annexation Issue

(International News Service)

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Jan. 18.—For the present efforts of the borough to annex a portion of upper Tyrone township will be dropped on advice of the borough solicitor. Judge S. J. Morrow already has ruled against the annexation, but an appeal had been prepared. Abandonment of the appeal causes the reversion to the township of $5,000 road taxes and $8,000 school taxes, paid to the borough by the United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry company.

Philadelphia Man Is Named As Trustee Of Grove City College

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—J. How-Howard Pew, of Philadelphia, was elected president of the board of trustees of Grove City College at a meeting here yesterday to succeed the late F. R. Babcock.

The Rev. Dr. Stuart Nye Hutchison, pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church and S. B. Hufnagel, manufacturer of this city, were added as members of the board.

NICARAGUA WILL BE LIVE THEME IN HAVANA SESSIONS

other problem. Mexico, Salvador, Hayti and other countries that have felt the tread of United States marines want to define it pretty rigorously. They want to write into the international law that governs the western hemisphere the definition that the mere landing of armed forces constitutes intervention, irrespective of whether such armed forces were or were not invited.

The American answer to this proposition is not yet clear. Mr. Hughes said today that this bridge would be crossed when it was reached.

Conference Progresses

Meanwhile the conference has gotten away to a running start. President Coolidge's visit to Havana and the warmth of his welcome in this Latin-American capital did much to seed the group of international harmony.

The chiefs of delegations from the 21 countries had a harmonious meeting yesterday and arranged for the future conduct of the conference. Today there will be a meeting of the entire conference to ratify the decisions of the chiefs. The principal work of the delegation heads was to appoint eight committees to handle the numerous subjects on the program.

Mr. Hughes assigned himself to the committee on "public international law", which will have to deal with the report of the international commission of jurists. It is this report that will inject, by inference, the Nicaraguan situation into the conference.

Sessions of the congress are being held in the University of Havana, a magnificent collection of buildings far removed from the gayety of the city proper.

Akers Testifies In Contempt Case

Street Car Man Whose Affidavit Caused Mistrial Takes Witness Stand

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—J. Ray Akers, the street car conductor whose affidavit contributed to the declaration of a mistrial in the conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair and former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, took the witness stand in the criminal contempt trial of Sinclair, William J. Burns and others today, and stated flatly that Edward J. Kidwell, a juror in the Fall-Sinclair proceedings, had told him he expected "an auto a block long" out of the case.

Kidwall asserted, during the course of a conversation in a "soft drink" parlor, that he "saw no reason to bring in a verdict of guilty," Akers testified. The erstwhile juror further was quoted as having said he "hadn't been paying much attention to the trial."

Orders Supplies Sent To Marines

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—In preparation for a three months' intensive campaign against rebels in the mountain districts of Nicaragua, the war department today instructed the commanding general of the Panama district to deliver to the marines at Managua at once mules and supplies for the drive.

The order called for 60 pack mules in condition for field service, one escort wagon, 90 days' field rations for the animals, shoes, harness, veternary supplies and other equipment sufficient for three months.

Castleton Manager Joins Hotel Club

Object Is To Make Western Pennsylvania A Convention Center

Because any effort which will bring more people to Pittsburgh will necessarily help New Castle, John L. Slack, manager of the Castleton, has accepted an invitation to join the Pittsburgh Hotel Men's association, it is announced today.

One of the chief aims of the newly instituted Pittsburgh Hotel Men's association is to route automobile traffic in such a way that visitors coming from the west and the north west can get into the city easily, a thing that now is quite a feat.

The Pittsburgh Hotel men are also cooperating with the Greater Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce on a project, which when completed, will make Western Pennsylvania the convention center of the state. They will also instigate an advertising campaign to sell the western part of Pennsylvania much as Florida and California have been sold. To do this, much newspaper and magazine space will be used, declares Mr. Slack.

World War Veteran Would Take Job As State Executioner

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—A Pennsylvania World War veteran has made application for the job of official executioner at the Western penitentiary, Bellefonte, now held by Robert Elliott of New York.

The governor's office today acknowledged receipt of the application but refused to divulge the applicant's name. He said he was an electrician, with a "full knowledge of duty", gained in his army service.

The official executioner receives $200 for each execution, with an additional $150 for each one in case more than one is electrocuted on the same day.

Will Do All Kind of Repair Work

Society leader, laborer or messenger —no matter who we are—every one of us may offend unknowingly.

BODY ODOR... plays no favorites

AN interesting face—an attractive smile. You're fascinated. Eagerly you approach. And then—body odor!

What a pity! Attractiveness—charm—forgotten.

Yet no one is safe from body odor. And with activities indoors, close, overheated rooms—body odor is more noticeable in winter than ever.

We must perspire to live. Even on coldest days—our millions of pores continually give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

Hard to tell when we offend

Whether you see this body waste or not—the odor is always there. And no one escapes it. Without taking precautions—a society debutante may sometimes offend as seriously as a laborer.

And unfortunately, we may offend—without knowing it!

For once our own sense of smell becomes accustomed to an odor, it becomes deadened to it. This misleads many fastidious people into thinking they are safe—when actually they do offend.

	Body odor more noticeable in winter—due to stuffy rooms—closed windows.
1Qt	Pores give off as much as a quart of waste a day—even in coldest weather.
	Now, a purifying toilet soap. Its antiseptic lather keeps you safe from body odor.

No excuse for body odor now

Yet it's needless to risk body odor now. Simply wash and bathe often with Lifebuoy, the toilet soap that deodorizes.

The same mild, antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores.

Lifebuoy also keeps complexions fresh and clear. Millions choose it for every toilet purpose.

You'll enjoy its hygienic scent

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's clean scent, which proves Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

Banquet Time Moved Up To Six

Judge Frost Must Leave Early For Houston, Texas

Because Judge E. Allen Frost must leave immediately after the banquet of the Pennsylvania State Advertisers in order that he may leave early for Houston, Texas, the time of the dinner, held in connection with the civic clubs of New Castle, has been changed from 6:45 Monday evening, January 23, to six o'clock sharp, it was announced today.

The committee in charge of the affair hopes that no one who plans to attend the dinner, at which Lorado Taft, world renowned artist and sculptor, will speak, will be inconvenienced by this arrangement.

Dan O'Connel of New York city, a highway engineer, will arrive in New Castle this evening to superintend the construction of two poster panels, to be placed at the intersection of North Mill and Falls street, on which the latest designs in poster advertising will be placed. The boards will also be erected for the purpose of exhibiting the new type construction, which is of all-steel, and a radical departure from the old type of "bill boards."

By far the high light of the convention will come Monday evening, when Lorado Taft, the sculptor, addresses the dinner gathering at the Scottish Rite cathedral. Mr. Taft, who has been the absolute leader of American sculptors for the past quarter century, is intensely interested in bringing art to children, not for utilitarian purposes, but for the sake of art alone. Monday morning, shortly after his arrival in the city, Mr. Taft will speak to a special chapel gathering of the students at the Senior High school, at which time he will endeavor to give them his theories of art.

Pension Increases Would Be Provided

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—Congressman J. Howard Swick of Beaver Falls, has introduced in the House of Representatives bills providing pension increases for two widows of Civil War veterans residing in New Castle.

The widows are: Mary E. Miller, widow of William H. Miller, late of Company B, Eighty-third Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry; and Sarah J. Spickle, widow of Samuel C. Spickle, late of Company F, One Hundredth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry.

The bills have been referred to the committee on invalid pensions for consideration. They must be reported favorably and passed by congress before the increases will become available.

In a few minutes time, your hair is soft, silky and radiant with life, gloss and lustre.

To have beautiful, fresh looking hair is simply a matter of proper shampooing.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

Much Interest In Services Of South Side Churches

Another large congregation attended the Central Christian church last night for the second night of the second week of the special prayer and testimony services.

The singing was led by William Richards and the congregation responded in the spirit of every hymn. Rev. S. Whilding of the First Congregational church opened the service with a very forceful and heart-felt prayer. Rev. J. B. Porter, who was in charge of the service, gave a pointed talk on "Let Your Light Shine". He stated that we should let our lights shine in our prayers, testimonies, church attendance and in our service for God. Following this, S. McMillan led off with prayer and was followed by others in the congregation. Testimonies to the saving and keeping power of God were given by many.

The service tonight will be held at the Grace Methodist church, Rev. J. L. Petrie in chage. A cordial invitation is extended not only to those of the south side, but to everyone. Come and see what God is doing in the lives of so many of His people.

Two Accidents Are Reported To Police

Three cars were involved in an accident at County Line and East Washington streets Tuesday, according to the reports made to the police.

Jesse L. Taylor of Stoneboro, Pa., was enroute west on East Washington street, while J. Edgar Ellis of R. D. No. 9 was going east on Washington street and about to make a left hand turn onto County Line street, when Frank Daville of 1014 Williams street, enroute east on Washington street behind the Ellis car, attempted to drive between the Taylor and Ellis cars.

The result was that all three machines were involved in a collision and all cars were more or less damaged. Fortunately, no person was injured.

Tony Gentile, 1212 Croton avenue, reported Tuesday that he was driving west on East Washington street at Jefferson street, when a car belonging to the Rieck-McJunkin Dairy company and bearing license No. R35-831 going south on North Jefferson street, hit and damaged his machine.

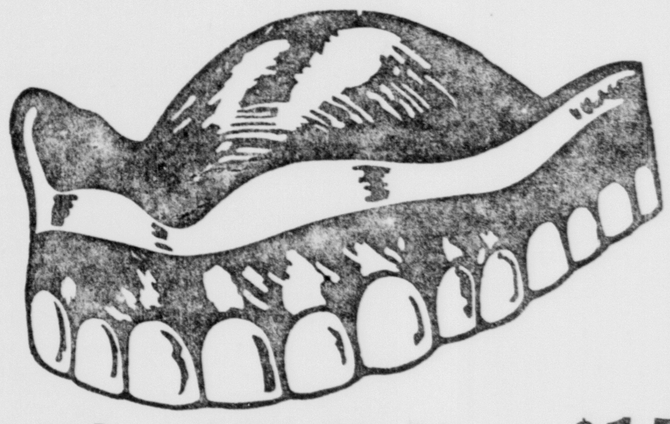

WAIVES HEARING; HELD FOR COURT

MACHADO GREETS COOLIDGE

ESTABLISH NEW RECORDS AT BERMUDA MEET

Members of the New York Women's Swimming Association made a new series of records at St. George's, Bermuda, where this photograph was snapped. Martha Norelius and Agnes Geraghty established new world's records for the 500 and 200 meters.

OXYGEN KEEPS LIFE IN BABE

More than 50 drums of oxygen have been used to keep tiny George Louis Smith of Chicago alive. A new record was reached when artificial respiration had been applied for 56 hours. This spurred on firemen to keep pumping oxygen into the youngster at the rate of 150 pounds, or a drumful per hour. The child was believed dead, when the treatment was first given, a victim of yellow jaundice.

FINDS TREASURE CHART—TOO LATE

Thomas Erskine Bunkley, native of New Jersey, but now a trader on the island of Tahiti in the South seas, owns a small island—Anu Anuraro—near Tahiti. Recently, one of his employes discovered what appeared to be a treasure chart, carved in stone. He decided to investigate later. He did—and found someone had beat him to it. Where the treasure was supposed to be hidden he found two holes, lined with rotting planks and bound in copper. The treasure—if there had been one—was gone. Photo shows Bunkley and the treasure chart.

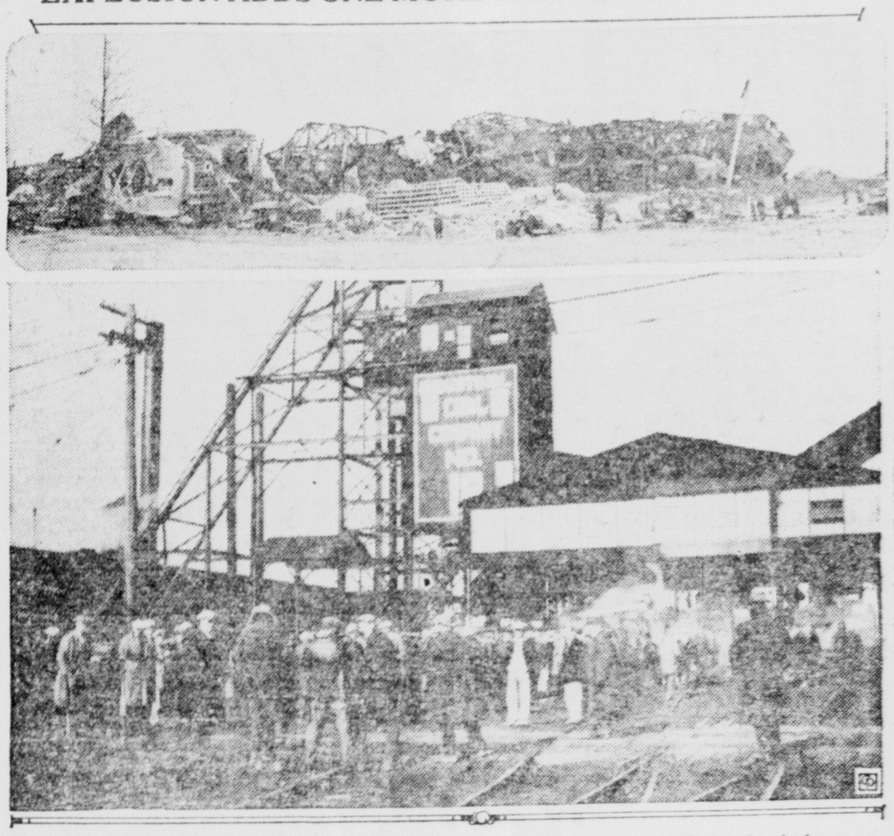

OYSTER WAR WAGED IN VIRGINIA

Presence of state troops has served to quiet the participants in the "oyster war" of Mobjack Bay, Gloucester county, Virginia, just north of the mouth of the York river. Gov. Harry F. Byrd ordered out the troops when belligerent oyster tongers fired on a state patrol boat and later dredged the bay for oysters at night. Night fishing is against the law and the men also are charged with dredging in private grounds. The fishermen contend the bay is public fishing ground. EXPLOSION ADDS ONE MORE MISFORTUNE TO MINE Industrial Coal company's mine No. 18 at West Frankfort, Ill., scene of an explosion, has had a number of misfortunes. Three explosions have occurred in the mine since its development, 20 years ago, and in addition it was leveled by a tornado three years ago. Top photo shows the ruins of buildings at the top of the shaft after the tornado. Below are crowds of relatives and friends waiting about the shaft for word from loved ones below, trapped by the latest explosion.

How Delegates To Two Big National Political Conventions Are Selected

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—On June 12, 1,089 Republican delegates, each with an alternate, will gather in Kansas City, Mo., to select the party's nominees for President and Vice-President of the United States, and two weeks later 1,098 Democrats, each with an alternate, will gather in Houston, Tex., to select their standard-bearers.

Although the two parties use different methods of allotting delegates to the states, in the end the results are about the same. The Democrats allow each state twice as many delegates as it has members of the United States Senate and the House of Representatives, and also allow territories and districts to send delegates, although they can produce no votes in the electoral college.

This method of apportioning delegates, of course, is based on population rather than on party strength, for the number of members of the national House of Representatives is based on the population, although no reapportionment of Representatives has been made since the 1910 census. Thus a state like Michigan, which has only one Democrat in Congress—a Senator—has two more delegates to the Democratic convention than Georgia, which elects two Democratic Senators and 12 Democratic Congressmen.

Thus it would seem that a group of Republican states, which can produce no votes in the electoral college for the Democratic nominee, might dominate the convention, name the candidates, and thus force up on solid Democratic states the choice of small minorities in solid Republican states.

To prevent this, the Democrats have adopted the two-thirds rule, which requires that two- thirds of the total votes must be cast for a candidate before he can be nominated. This means that 799 of the 1,098 Democrats meeting in Houston must vote for Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York before he can be nominated.

The Republicans have adopted a series of reforms, beginning with the 1916 convention, to avoid the domination of an alignment of the states which produce no Republican votes in the electoral college.

The Republican National Convention of 1928 will be constituted as follows: Four delegates-at-large from each state; two additional delegates-at-large for each Representative-at-large in Congress from each state; two delegates-at-large each for Alaska, District of Columbia, Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippine Islands; three additional delegates-at-large from each state casting its electoral vote, on a majority thereof, for the Republican nominee for President in 1924; one district delegate from each Congressional district; one additional district delegate from each Congressional district casting 10,000 votes for any Republican elector in the 1924 presidential elections, or for the Republican nominee for Congress in 1926.

Thus the states going Republican in 1924 receive a bonus of power in the convention, and Congressional districts which have not as many as 10,000 people voting the Republican ticket are penalized.

For example, New York will have 90 delegates to the 1928 Republican convention, whereas it had 91 in the 1924 convention. As it voted for Coolidge in 1924, it gets the bonus of three delegates awarded such states, but the Republicans have lost a congressional district since 1922, so it loses one district delegate. The state will have 90 delegates to the Democratic convention, too, as it has 43 Congressmen and, of course, two Senators.

The strength of the various states in the Republican convention may be compared by the number of delegates each will have, as follows: Alabama, 15, (one less than in 1924); Arizona, 9; Arkansas, 11 (3 less than in 1924); California, 29; Colorado, 15; Connecticut, 17; Delaware 9; Florida, 10; Georgia, 16 (2 less than in 1924); Idaho, 11; Illinois, 61; Indiana, 33; Iowa, 29; Kansas, 23; Kentucky, 29 (3 more than in 1924); Louisiana, 12 (one less than in 1924); Maine, 15; Maryland, 19; Massachusetts, 39; Michigan, 33; Minnesota, 27; Mississippi, 12; Missouri, 39; Montana, 11; Nebraska, 19; Nevada, 9; New Hampshire, 11; New Jersey, 31; New Mexico, 9; New York, 90 (one less than in 1924); North Carolina, 20 (2 less than in 1924); North Dakota, 13; Ohio, 51; Oklahoma, 20 (3 less than in 1924); Oregon, 13; Pennsylvania, 79; Rhode Island, 13; South Carolina, 11; South Dakota, 13; Tennessee, 19 (6 less than in 1924); Texas, 26 (3 more than in 1924); Utah, 11; Vermont, 11; Virginia, 15 (2 less than in 1924); Washington, 17; West Virginia, 19; Wisconsin, 26 (3 less than in 1924); Wyoming, 9; Alaska, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Philippines, and Porto Rico, 2 each.

The Democratic Convention will be composed of delegates distributed as follows: New York, 90; Pennsylvania, 76; Illinois, 58; Ohio, 48; Texas, 40; Missouri, 36; Massachusetts, 36; Indiana and Michigan, 30 each; New Jersey and Georgia, 28 each; California, Iowa, Kentucky and Wisconson, 26 each; Alabama, Minnesota, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia, 24 each; Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma, 20 each; Arkansas and South Carolina, 18 each; Maryland, Nebraska and West Virginia, 16 each; Connecticut and Washington, 14 each; Colorado, Florida and Maine, 12 each; North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island and South Dakota, 10 each; Idaho, Montana, New Hampshire, Utah and Vermont, 8 each; Arizona, Delaware, Nevada, New Mexico, Wyoming, Alaska, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Philippines, Porto Rico, and Canal Zone, 6 each.

These delegates are elected by conventions or primaries, according to the laws of the various states, within certain limitations set by the national committees of the respective parties.

Colds That Develop Into Pneumonia

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the gratest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

Election Board Officials Will Be Arraigned

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—Allegheny county set about today to put its own house in order, insofar as election fraud charges are concerned.

Five defendants, all members of the election board of the 20th district of the 10th ward here, were scheduled to be arraigned today to answer charges of conspiring to make fraudulent returns in the 1926 primaries, made in five counts of a grand jury indictment returned against them last November.

Those to go to trial today are: Michael McAndrews, judge; Jacob Steine, acting inspector; Carrie Weaver, overseer; E. J. Bennett and E. N. Finks, clerks.

CREDIT

What credit really is and what it can do to the life of an individual or to a community was explained this morning by Ray F. Hall, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange.

"Credit is like the blood which circulates in the veins and arteries", asserted Mr. Hall. "Anything that one does to retard the flow of credit harms the business body. When one person owes money beyond the specified length of time, the whole of the city suffers.

"Debts cause death both to men and the communities in which they live. If anyone is anxious to improve business conditions, they must pay up their current bills so that other people may pay them.

"A credit rating is the result of one thing: the manner in which you pay your bills. Prompt rating is the result of prompt pay; and slow rating is the result of slow pay. I am sure that everyone believes that a prompt rating is worth the effort that one spends to get it."

When you see a half-drunk flapper smoking a cigarette in a coupe, you can almost understand why the Chinese used to drown girl babies.

Pete Christean Again Seeking Pardon Hearing

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—The plea of Leon Scovern, 17-year-old "sheik" murderer of Shamokin, for commutation of his death sentence was before the state board of pardons for argument today. Scovern is sentenced to be electrocuted Monday for murdering the brother of his sweetheart. He is the only first degree murder case before the board.

Three Allegheny county men whose death sentences were commuted in 1919 are asking rehearings of their pleas for full pardons. They are: Jack Guastaffera, Charles Russogulo and Joseph Russogulo.

Pete Christean, Lawrence, who escaped the electric chair in 1921, also is asking for a rehearing of his pardon plea.

Seven men convicted of murder in the second degree also have cases listed for argument. In all, 27 cases are listed for argument and 11 will be submitted on papers filed. There are 26 petitions for rehearing.

Plea Made For Kindergarten At Meeting Here

Demonstration Put On by 20 Children Of Present Kindergarten

First Grade Teachers Praise Kindergarten, Telling Various Advantages

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Parents and Teachers association which took place Tuesday evening in the Lincoln school, a strong plea was made for the continuance of the kindergarten here for pre-age school children. With so many of the little pupils going into the first grade at mid-semester promotion, it leaves the kindergarten sadly in need of pupils to pay the running expenses of the institution.

Miss Wilson, the teacher, had a group of 20 little tots there, and conducted a regular kindergarten school day for the benefit of the parents and teachers, showing how they conducted their juvenile studies.

In open forum, Miss Ascha Jackson, principal of the West End school, stated that the year in kindergarten seemed to add content to the work of children in the first grades, and Miss Shields, a first grade teacher, gave her experiences with children who came from homes into her classes, and those who came from kindergarten. Mrs. Frank Attinger gave an interesting account of the kindergarten work in her former home and expressed surprise at the low rate of tuition charged by the local institution. She stated that the kindergarten was the vestibule to the school with one door opening into the home.

Mrs. Robert Barlow, who was instrumental in organizing the kindergarten in the first place, stated that unless the ranks were filled to their former capacity, the kindergarten would have to die, without ever having lived long enough to make its importance felt in the community. Different parents present gave opinions on the merits of the institution, and a canvass is to be made of pre-school age children between the ages of four and six.

The meeting concluded with group singing led by Rev. A. M. Stevenson.

Men Enjoy Social Meeting Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—Comprising one of a series of social meetings for men in the Methodist church, Rev. Robert A. Little addressed a group of 60 men Tuesday evening in the church. His topic was "The Venture of Faith", an interesting message and well received.

In addition to the address there was group singing, selections by a men's chorus and the successful evening concluded with the inevitable lunch, served by the ladies of the church.

Prof. Ray Smith has been made chairman of the next meeting in the series, which will take place in February.

Ellwood May Have Municipal Airport

Initial Meeting On Project Conducted Tuesday Evening In Pittsburgh Company Office

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—At an initial meeting of people interested in the proposed establishing of a Municipal Airport here, which took place Tuesday evening in the Pittsburgh Company offices on Lawrence avenue, the project was discussed thoroughly and the following officers elected: President, Kenneth Fox; vice president, E. L. Gahagan; technical advisor, W. H. Thomas; secretary, Norman Rearis, and treasurer, W. F. Kegel.

It is thought that such an airport will tend toward the growth and betterment of Ellwood City, and various farms are being looked over by a committee, which will report findings back at a meeting of the organization which will be conducted Monday evening. The project is being handled through the Chamber of Commerce in line with its policies for a bigger and better Ellwood City.

Should a suitable location for such an airport be found here, at least two airoplanes will be brought.

W. H. Thomas, the technical adviser, has had considerable experience in flying in Pittsburgh, and should be of great assistance in the development of this project.

Evening Bridge Honors Visitor

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—Honoring Mme. Bernard Bogonslawsky of Paris, Mrs. Henry Schenck entertained a group of friends at her home on Second street Tuesday evening. Seven tables of bridge were in play.

Decorations were carried out in sweetheart roses, lavender and yellow tulips. At the conclusion of an interesting series of games, the honor guest was presented with a dainty gift, while score honors went to Mrs. Robert Forbes, Mrs. Fred Swanson and Miss Blanch Fisher.

Later delicious refreshments were served at the tables by the hostess assisted by her aunt from Butler, Mrs. Thomas B. Boyd. This is the first of a series of parties planned by Mrs. Schenck.

The guest list comprised: Mesdames E. C. Wright, J. Reed Carpenter, Berwick Barton, W. F. Kegel, Robert Forbes, B. J. Bell, Bernard Bogonslawsky, H. D. Patterson, Loring Gelbach, John Dunn, Jr., Harold Seidel, B. M. New Brighton High Defeats Ellwood 15-14

Ellwood City High Loses Hard Game In Valley; Girls Victorious 31-30

By TONY PASTA.

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—A foul decided a heated contest last night between Ellwood City High's passers and New Brighton on the latter's floor with the final score 15-14 in favor of New Brighton.

In the girl's game the Tubers fared better in another close contest as Irene Ross and her maidens defeated the Beaver Valley sextet 31-30. Both games were thrillers and two of the best ever staged in the W. P. I. A. L. league.

New Brighton with the absence of their flashy star, Dyson, was under a slight handicap but managed to slip through the first half with a two-point lead.

The most exciting moment came in the last few seconds of the fray when with the score tied Harris was awarded two fouls and sunk the first one giving his team the lead.

Justine and MacMurdo played a hard game, the former sinking three field goals and MacMurdo two. Harris was New Brighton's big gun as he caged two pointers and two from the foul line.

Dyson Out of Game.

Dyson who was expected to shine against the "Tubers" did not appear in the lineup due to an elegibility rule of some sort.

On Friday night Ellwood High travels to Butler. The girls will not play as Butler High has no girls team. Lee's cagers will have to step some to beat the Butler aggregation as they have been burning things up this season.

The summary:

Ellwood Cihty—14.		New Brighton—14
Friedoff	F	Fair
W. King	F	Hurly
MacMurdo	C	Harris
Lawrence	G	Herrington
Justine	G	Roman

Referee Faucett.

Substitutions, Dunn, Lawrence, Siegle, Harris.

Fouls, Friedoff, 0-2; King, 2-4; MacMurdo, 2-3; Dunn, 0-1; Fair, 2-3; Hurly, 2-4; Harris 2-3; Herrington 1-2.

Field goals, MacMurdo 2, Justine 3, Fair, Harris 2, Herrington.

P. H. C. Members Do Comical Stunts

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—Fifty members of the Protective Home Circle met Tuesday evening in the Sons of Columbus hall for a fun meeting. Each member was compelled to punch a board and perform what he was told to do on a slip of paper he received. The stunts were varied and numerous and a pleasant informal time was enjoyed.

Out of town visitors present were Mrs. Blanch Canfield and Mrs. Belle Kennedy of New Castle. At the next meeting, which takes place February 7, there will be installation of officers and initiation of members.

Members of the committee in charge of last night's party were Mrs. Paul Forsythe, assisted by Mesdames Bert Anderson, Lawrence Stevenson, Harry Ott, Jessie Means, Mary Hudspath, Mary McKim and Messrs Paul Forsythe, C. E. Webster, Oscar Hooker and Arthur Main.

Mrs. Laughlin Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Harry Laughlin of Glenn avenue entertained members of the Ewing Park Card club Tuesday evening at her home.

Three tables of bridge were in play and high score honors went to Mrs. Martin Riner and Mrs. Percy Lytle. Mrs. Audley Cunningham was a special guest.

After the hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by her daughters Bernice and Aline. Members of the club are Mesdames Jack Boyle, Arthur Nicklas, Frank Sanders, Carl Murphey, Harry Duncan, A. P. Jordan, Frank Morrison, Harry Laughlin, Ray Wilson, John Lindgren, B. D. Turner, Martin Riner and Percy Lytle.

Missionary Kurtz Will Speak Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—This evening at the regular prayer service in the Baptist church a feature of the meeting will be an address by Mr. F. Kurtz, a returned missionary from the Telluin Mission in India. Mr. Kurtz will have an interesting message for the local people, and members of Harmony and Providence churches are invited to hear him. At present he is in the states on furlough and making his home with his family in Granville, Ohio.

PLAYER MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 18.—The regular weekly prayer service of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church will take place this evening at the home of Charles Houk of the New Castle road.

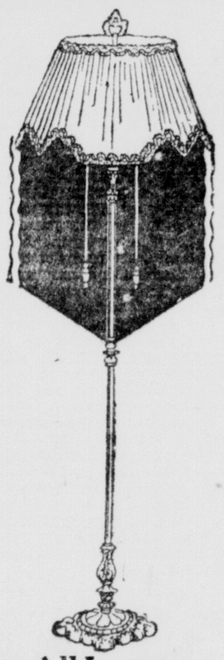

ORIGINAL BRIDGE

Troop 36

The weekly meeting of Boy Scout troop 36 of the First Baptist church was held Monday evening, Jan. 16, at 7:15 o'clock. There were a large number of Scouts present and five new members were voted into the troop membership. Scoutmaster Russler and Assistant Scoutmaster Hugh Sturdy attended the meeting and were in charge.

The troop was also honored by having three members of the troop committee present at this meeting. Those present were: D. R. Smith, A. Owens and J. I. L. Roberts.

After a short business meeting patrols were formed and patrol leaders selected. The results were as follows: Beaver patrol, Robert McMillen, leader; Hawk patrol, Franklin Russler, leader; Eagle patrol, Joseph Weller, leader; Swallow patrol, Jack Sanafore, leader. These Scouts were chosen for this position because of their knowledge of Scouting and the rapid advancement that they have made while members of this troop.

After the business of the troop had been taken care of several drills were learned and practiced. After the important announcements by the scoutmaster the meeting closed with a prayer.

CHARLES McMILLEN,
Scribe.

Troop 15

An interesting and instructive meeting was held Monday, Jan. 16, at the First Christian church under the charge of Scoutmaster Smith and Assistant Scoutmasters George McCracken and A. W. Gray.

The bugle and drum corps rehearsed to the satisfaction of the remainder of the troop and plans were made for a parade of the troop to be held during anniversary week. Plans were also discussed for a banquet to be given by the troop at an early date for the parents of the Scouts.

Many visitors were present at this meeting, including George Anderson of Rotary troop 1, Harold Charbonnier of troop 20, James Charbonnier of troop 20, Joseph Malandro of troop 20, Frank Giordana of troop 20, William Murdock, Bert Coates, Henry Howan and Albert Funkhouser. Committeemen Frank Young and Frank Johnston were also in attendance.

Frank Johnston, game protector, spoke to the boys on this interesting subject and plans were made for several of the boys to accompany him while doing his duty. Bird houses were discussed in connection with this.

A troop basketball team was organized. The first game is to be played against the Elks team. The members of the team of troop 15 are as follows: Russell O'Neil, captain; Jack Jones, George McCracken, Junior Brown, Robert McNeese, William Stump, Archie McClintock and Oscar Batton.

A patrol recess was held during which time tests in first aid, signaling, handicraft and several subjects were passed. A first aid talk was given by J. Calahan and a demonstration by Herbert Rogers, Junior Brown, Oscar Batton, Elliott Francis and Archie McClintock was given.

Included in the announcements which were given by Scoutmaster Smith, discussions were held in regard to anniversary week, test night, totem poles, bridge building and the coming jamporee, which troop 15 is determined to win.

Rehearsals of the bugle and drum corps will be held every Monday and Friday evening at the First Christian church. Any wishing to join are asked to hand in their applications. Already 21 members are registered. The buglers are George Macom, Archie McClintock, Harry Lockley, Russell O'Neil, Joseph Parks, Fulton Cook, John Phillips, Robert McNees, William Houck, Elliott Francis, Vance Glenn, Herbert Rodgers, Stewart Loveridge, Jack Jones, Junior Brown and Leroy Rector. The drum players are George McCracken, William Stump, Harold Jones, James Snyder, Robert Ray and Robert Batton. Oscar Batton takes charge of the playing of the bass drum.

Enon Valley

Monday evening, Jan. 16, one of the most important meetings of the year was held by the Enon Valley troop 1 of the Boy Scouts of America. The meeting was opened with the regular opening ceremony, and Scoutmaster Harrison Davidson was in charge. A large number of Scouts were in attendance.

Immediately after the opening ceremony was completed a short business meeting was held, followed by a test period. This period is one of the important features of the meeting programs of Enon Valley troop 1, and as a result the boys are advancing rapidly.

Several visitors attended this meeting, including Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan. Mr. Calahan stated that this troop, which is one of the new troops of the county, has far exceeded his expectations with regard to the advancement and knowledge in scouting that the Scouts possess. Mr. Calahan also commended Scoutmaster Davidson for the good work that he is doing.

After an instruction period, during which rope splicing was the main feature, the meeting closed with regular form.

The man starting the chain of 5-cents-to-a-dollar stores probably later on will handle the new automobile lines.

German Railroads Offer Comfort Bait To Win Travellers

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—New bait for the American tourist has been prepared by the German railroad company in its new sleeping and dining cars designed to win the title of the most luxurious in the world. The new sleeping cars are eight feet longer than usual, permitting the beds to be made larger. There are but 11 compartments to each coach.

Each compartment, finished in grade one maple and birch with Gobelin draperies and Persian carpets is equipped with hot and cold running water, a large mirror and reading lamps. A thick layer of felt under the corridor carpet diminishes the sound of the porter's footsteps. The new coaches are painted a bright red on the outside.

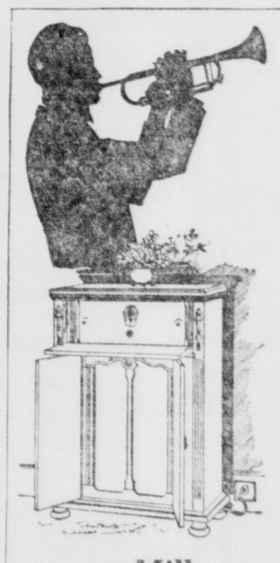

The government tourist bureau reports that during the year just closed more than 100,000 Americans visited Berlin. The authorities reckon upon at least 150,000 next year as the result of their intensive propaganda of which the plan to inaugurate a Berlin "season" for the months of May and June is an important part.

NEW CASTLE DEFEATS BEAVER FALLS 18-9

Fourth Victory For Local Team

New Castle High School Basketball Team Outplays Beaver Falls Tuesday Night

VISITORS HELD TO TWO FIELD GOALS

Unleashing a brilliant, although erratic attack, the powerful New Castle High school basketball quintet coached by Phil Bridenbaugh, completely swamped the Beaver Falls High school outfit last night on the High school gym floor thus adding another link in the chain of victories which would bring them into the Section III title. When the final whistle blew, New Castle was leading on the long end of an 18 to 9 score.

Outplayed in every department of the game the Beaver Falls tossers fought gamely to the end, but nothing could stop the Juggernaut of New Castle. Like a mighty engine the combination swept down the floor time after time and caged their baskets. Close guarding held the Beaver Falls boys to two fouls in the first quarter and when time was called, New Castle led by a five to two margin

Rally Cut Short.

It was in the second quarter that Beaver Falls staged one of the most valiant rallies that ever has been seen on the local floor. After a time out, Garda, Beaver Falls captain, called his men together and the rally started which finally netted the down valley combination but two foul goals. And again in the second quarter the scorers of he New Castle team got together and succeeded in amassing another five points, so that the half ended with a 10 to five score.

Alexander, lengthy New Castle center, consistently outjumped Haggart, Beaver Falls tip-off man and by closely guarding him throughout the game, eliminated all chances of his scoring Siliman and Reider, guard and forward, were the stars for the New Castle aggregation. Dribbling up the floor and tossing from one to the other, it was through their combined efforts that five of New Castle's ten points, were marked up on the right side of the ledger by half time. Alexander aside from his wonderful defensive game also added two points to the New Castle total in the first half Ostrosky, who held Levine, his opponent, helpless all through the game also contributed three points in the first half.

Again in the second half Beaver Falls rallied, but all to no avail. Taking desperate chances again and again Hendricksen, guard for the Beaver Falls team, would send shots in perfect parabalas for the New Castle basket, but always they would fall short. It was the superior defense work of this same Hendrickson that kept the intrepid New Castleites from amassing a larger score. He was both defense and offense for Beaver Falls.

Richards Plays Fine Game.

By the end of the third quarter New Castle had scored their allotment of 18 points while the down-valley tally sheet showed but six points. The only score made in this quarter by Beaver Falls came when Garda shot a foul.

Early in the fourth quarter Tip Richards, who had been playing a stellar defensive and offensive game, was forced to leave the game because of personal fouls. He was replaced by Cuba, who in turn was replaced by Johnson

Again in the last quarter long shots from the other end of the floor featured Beaver Falls' game. A field goal by Hendricksen, a foul by Levine, and another foul by Hendricksen was the limit of the scoring and the game ended with the final score of 18 to 9 in favor of New Castle.

Lineup:

New Castle—18.		Beaver Falls—9
Reider	F	Garda
Richards	F	Caplan
Alexander	C	Haggart
Ostrosky	G	Hendricksen
Sillman	G	Levine

Substitutions: Beaver Falls, Morrison for Caplan. New Castle, Cuba for Richards, Johnson for Cuba.

Field Goals: New Castle, Sillman 3, Ostrosky 2, Alexander 2, Reider 1. Beaver Falls, Garda 1. Hendrickson 1.

Fouls: New Castle, Reider 1 out of 2, Ostrosky 1. Beaver Falls, Garda 2, Hendricksen 2.

Grove City had a hard time defeating Thiel 29-25 last night at Greenville as Thiel held a 14-11 lead at the end of the first half. In the last five minutes of the game Thiel came close to deadlocking the game. Captain Gillium led the attack of the Crimson with a quartet of field goals while the Bost brothers played a brilliant game for the Lutherans.

Although the American tennis ranking list for 1927 will not be disclosed until the annual meeting of the U. S. L. T. A. in February there is scarcely a doubt but that William T. Tilden will be placed at the top of the list. It will be the eighth time that he has been thus honored and he will share the record of the late William A. Larned. It is something of a hollow honor as he blew the national title to Rene LaCoste for the second time.

Marconi running in the silks of Mose Goldblatt of Cincinnati, accounted for the Broadway handicap at New Orleans. He was an odds on favorite but his backers had some anxious seconds in the last sixteenth when Lounger gave him a great challenge. Nor'easter came in third. The start was made out of the gate and was fairly good. Saxon and Nor'easter cut a fast pace and Marconi was third but going strong. In the stretch Marconi ran into the lead but in the last sixteenth along came Lounger with a rush and just failed to get up, Marconi winning by a head.

Allegheny college was administered a thorough defeat by Westminster last night at Meadville. The score was 44-11. The New Wilmington five took the lead at the start and maintained it throughout the game. Allegheny only got two field goals, in the first half. Blair got the first and Gillies the second. Delahunty was the big satellite of the game with six field goals, five of which came in the first period. Crowell, substitute forward and Connor netted four each. Westminster has a great team this season.

Church League To Observe Foul Rules

From Friday on, the personal foul rulings will be strictly observed in all Church League games was the opinion of the managers of the different teams of the league, who had a meeting Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A.

Four personal fouls will be sufficient to eliminate a player from the game.

Wampum Indies Top Pittsburgh Press Quintet

The Wampum Indies had little difficulty in downing the Pittsburgh Press quintet in a game played at the Wampum Opera House on Tuesday night. The final score was 83 to 45.

At the end of the first half the Indies were enjoying a lead of 40 to 22. Blythe with twelve field goals and Boone with ten were the big scorers of the game.

The summary:

Wampum Indies 83.		Pittsburgh 45.
Boone	F	Ziegler
Hennon	F	McCafferty
Blythe	C	Howman
Patterson	G	McCarthy
White	G	Doffs

Subs—Galbraith, Schiek, Ferrucci, Harmar, Gayda. Field Goals—Boone 10, Blythe 12, Hennon 8, Patterson 6, White 2, Ferrucci, Galbraith, Ziegler 5, Doffs 2, McCarthy 4, Howman 5, McCafferty 2. Fouls—Wampum, 3 out of 10; Pittsburgh, 9 out of 15. Referee, Jones.

Overlands To Play Sharon Quintet At Y. M. C. A. Tonight

The Rick-Overlands of the City League will meet the fast P. H. C. team of Sharon at the Y. M. C. A. floor tonight. The preliminary game is between the Central Christians and the Pitt Orioles of Sharon.

The first game will start at 8 o'clock. Andy Hartman, former captain of the New Castle High team, and more recently a star at Grove City College, will be found in the Sharon lineup.

The Overlands lost to the P. H. C. team at Sharon recently, by a score of 31 to 29.

Temple Juniors Annex Victory

The Temple Israel Juniors defeated the Union High Juniors by a score of 28 to 4. on Tuesday night.

The Union High team was held to a lone field goal and two fouls by the Temple Juniors. Broida, Cohen and Shifman were the big stars.

The summary:

Union High 4		Temple Juniors 28
Thompson	F	Broida
Davis	F	Rosenberg
White	C	Cohen
Hannon	G	Levin
Clark	G	Shifman

Subs.—Dewberry, Wallace. Field goals: Davis, Rosenberg 2, Broida 3, Cohen 3, Levin 2, Shifman 3. Fouls: Union High 2 out of 6; Temple Juniors, 2 out of 4. Referee: Kellar.

George Harris And Mickie Dugan To Entertain

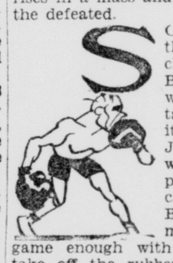

By ED FRITZ

NOW is the time for the fistic inclined to rush to the aid of boxing which most assuredly needs an elixir of some sort after having taken one on the whiskers on Monday night when Mickie Solomon was presented with a bouquet after he had unintentionally fouled Pickles Donohue at the old armory.

And while Mickie and Pickles were cast in the chief roles in the Drama of Punch let us stand up and declare truthfully that it is our belief that in awarding the mustard plaster to Mickie, the men who did so became the John Barrymores of the ring and their mistake, while palpable, was not of ulterior design.

To err is a failing common among humans, pugilists, managers, officials and sport writers included. This fact can be discovered best when the man pack rants and raves for a knockout. The moment following the knockout the mob returns to normalcy then rises in a mass and cheers lustily for the defeated.

Or why not give the ring officials a chance? Likewise, Bill Jolly, the man who made all this talk possible. Had it not been for Jolly this city would not be in a position to criticize the officials. Bill was the only man in the town game enough with his bankroll to take off the rubber band and say: "I'll shoot the whole roll!"

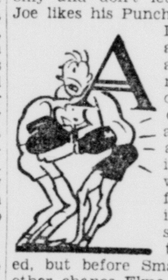

He had nothing to do with the award but he did sink $1,000 in the club and give the old man a chance to sneak out of the house every Monday night. And what's more he's game enough to continue though my operatives declare that the throttleman of the seventh ward is now digging into his pocket to keep the game going.

The world likes a game guy. Jolly says he is going to give a bout Monday night in which George Harris battles Mickie Dugan. The writer has seen both these men of the Art of Busting Noses in action and it is our opinion that it will be a fight, every second of the way.

THE first preliminary Monday night was 75 per cent better than bad, which means it was pretty good for heavyweights. A chap named Joe White with a neck as big as a smokestack and 25 pounds advantage fought a guy named Smalnex whom, to avoid an error in spelling, is hereafter to be spelled Small Neck.

White fought for the jaw and Small Neck milled to the stomach. White staggered Small Neck several times with blows to jaw while Small Neck sunk plenty of straight punches into the bay window part of White's anatomy and don't let anyone tell you Joe likes his Punch served there.

ALL officials called it a draw, although I am informed by my informants who operate in plain-clothes without the aid of spyglasses and gum shoes that it did not meet with approval. In fact I'm told that it would not be surprising were these two rematched, but before Small Neck gets another chance Elmo Clark the Mighty will fight White.

The last time I saw Elmo the Mighty fight was at Cascade park or back in the days when an automobilist did not have to stop at a main thoroughfare. He laid his opponent out like a rug. In fact the boys who promoted the show were rushing through the park hunting for a doctor. This is true and not for Mr. White's consumption.

RING hysteria and not Jimmie Fitzpatrick defeated Johnny Slate, according to his friends and they did not take kindly to the towel which was flopped rather suddenly and surprisingly into the ring in the middle of the third round.

Johnny and Jimmie had fought a great first round and a better second session during which Kirkpatrick was knocked down for a count of nine. When the third started he rushed Slate and in Slate's own corner felled him on the ropes.

Slate got up and caught Kirkpatrick with a terrific right as the Ellwood boy bore in. The punch was a real sock and we believed it would change the situation. However, the towel fluttered into the ring as the punch landed, ending the fight.

They claim that had there been less haste the Titanic would not have gone down. At Bunker Hill the order went out: "Don't shoot until you see the whites of their eyes." The latter would have been a good order concerning the towel.

AL LASSMAN

Al Lassman giant New York University tackle is somewhat of a boxer and is thinking of taking up the ring seriously upon the completion of his studies. Standing 6 feet 2 inches in height and weighing about 220 pounds, Al looks every part of a boxer and reports credit him with being a good hitter and fast .He has been boxing four years and has cut quite a figure in intercollegiate circles, winning most of his bouts by the knockout route.

Jacksville Wins From Laural A. C.

Jacksville Athletics won a fast game from the Laural A. C. on Tuesday evening at the Arthur McGill gymnasium. This makes the seventh straight game that Jacksville has won.

Paul Iman Passes Away Last Night

Paul Iman, former third baseman and resident of New Castle, more recently a resident of Youngstown, passed away from pneumonia last night at Youngstown. He had been ill for some time.

Several days ago it was reported that Paul was in a serious condition, but on Monday he was reported by his friends to be slightly improved. The change came and Paul passed away last night.

As a member of the best local baseball teams at one time or another, Paul Iman's clever fielding at third base and his heavy hitting brought victory in many a close contest.

The sympathy of players and fans is extended to his widow, small son, parents and sister.

Falcon Midgets Win Three Games

The Polish Falcon Midgets in the past few days have mopped up on three quintets.

The three teams that have fallen victims to the Midgets are: South Side Midgets, 48 to 11; 9 B 4's by a score of 30 to 18, and the Junior Midgets, 25 to 21.

The games were played on the Falcon gym floor.

Robertson Believes United States Will Win Olympic Title

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18.—Lawson Robertson, head coach of the American Olympic team looked on the bright side of things today and as he fondly contemplated our chances at Amsterdam this summer, his exuberance simply got the better of him and he laughed aloud in sheer despond. It was gathered when masculine self-control had been regained, that America would hold its international championship if at all only because of its control of the field events.

Otherwise it seemed the outlook was almost as bright as the interior of an ex-shoe. In tones of gentle melancholia he conveyed the information that there isn't much in the way of startling material coming up for the 1928 team and that there is even less holding over from the 1924 champions.

He thinks the Germans are due to cut out Paris score by about 30 points and that may be enough to make us finish a very game but losing second.

"There were no Germans on the scene at Paris and we placed four men at 100 metres, ran one at 200 metres and placed two men in the 400-metre race. Robertson stated with marked enthusiasm, like a man paying the rent. "There will be plenty of them at Amsterdam and they will score in the only races in which we made a respectable showing last time—the sprints.

Four Good Men.

"They have been four men, Koerner, Corts, Houben and Wege, who are the equal of anything in the sprints we have or will have. The other foreign nations are just as strong or stronger than they were at Paris. We won them with some 35 points to spare. In the meantime, barring the development of Lloyd Hahn, some field men and one hurdler, we have stood still. We have no prospect of developing men for the track events over 1,500 metres and I include that race only because of Hahn.

"Lastly owing to the exigencies created by the sending of other sport groups our team will be the smallest in history."

Yes, the gentleman surely isn't bowed down under a burden of joy. As I gather it we will win only in the event that we don't lose and even then he suspects there is a catch in it somewhere. Anyhow he can see not more than 20 men in prospect as probable point getters at the Amsterdam games and for my part I wan to say that I have seen full many a probable point become an impossible one in less than six months

Those citey by Robertson as tangible legacies from the 1924 group were Paddock and Scholz in the sprints; Hahn in the 800 and 1,500 metre runs; Houser in the shot and discuss; Osborn in the high jump and decathlon; Hubbard in the broad jump and hop, step and jump; Barnes in the pole vault; Taylor in the 400 matre hurdle event and De Mar in the marathon. Others not so stifling, so to speak, are Hussey in the sprints; Enck, Helfrich and Watson in the middle distances; McGrath in the weights; Roming in the 5,000 metre run and Guthrie in the hurdles.

New Castle High Maidens Defeat Beaver Falls Hi.

New Castle High Girls Led By Miss Ann Ponion Defeat Valley Sextet 22-17

Ann Ponian, flashy forward of the New Castle high school girls' basketball team, almost single handed defeated Beaver Falls girls by a score of 22 to 17 in a preliminary attraction to the New Castle-Beaver Falls game Tuesday evening on the high school gym floor.

The game was loose and fast, but in the first half the New Castle girls completely outplayed their sisters from down the valley, the score at half time being 13 to 4.

In the second half the Beaver Falls maidens staged a rally and succeeded in bringing up their end of the score to 17, while the New Castle girls added nine more points to their total.

Much should be said about the superior work of Carson, New Castle jumping center, who was in the midst of each play and, while she scored no points, she aided materially the final score.

For Beaver Falls, Magee was the outstanding player, amassing 14 of their 17 points.

Score and lineup:

New Castle 22		Beaver Falls 17
Ponian	F	Altmyer
Clark	F	Magee
Plattner	J. C	Beeson
Patton	S. C	Januzzi
Wygonowski	G	Timms
Kaufman	G	Carnelly

Subs—New Castle: Johnson for Clark, Hill for Johnson, Johnson for Hill, Carson for Plattner, Craig for Patton, Patton for Craig, Parker for Kaufman. Beaver Falls: Januzzi for Altmyer, Richmond for Januzzi, Caplan for Beeson, Stearn for Carnelly.

Field goals—New Castle: Ponian 6, Clark 1; Beaver Falls: Altmyer 1, Magee 7.

Fouls—New Castle: Ponian 8; Beavel Falls: Altmyer 1, Magee 2.

Referee—Bruckheimer.

SORDS POINTS

In comparing the relative merits of the players involved in baseball's latest "mystery deal," in which Rogers Hornsby, New York Giant star, went to the Boston Braves for Outfielder Jimmy Welch and Catcher Francis Hogan, the reason for the sensational trade becomes more of a puzzle. But trying as hard as you can to offset Hornsby's greatness, one finds that although the Giants will miss Rogers' hitting, which nearly landed them the pennant in a late season spurt last year, they will be greatly strengthened behind the bat by the addition of Hogan, one of the most promising catchers to break into the big leagues in many moons. He is a big fellow and makes a good target for the pitcher to shoot at. He has a good throwing arm and is a natural born hitter in spite of his .288 average of last year. He beat the Giants in one game with two terrific home runs to the left field stands. Hogan joined the Braves as a rookie, but soon proved to be their best backstop.

When Boston bought Welch from Seattle three years ago, he set them back a huge piece of money. He, too, is considered a good hitter, and can blame an injured leg for his .287 batting average last year. The leg is entirely healed now, which will enable him to be a big help to the Giants next year.

Westminster Defeats Allegheny Team 44-11

MEADVILLE, Pa., Jan. 18.—Allegheny college basketball team was decisively defeated by the fast stepping Westminster college five in the contest on the Allegheny college floor last night the final score being 44-11 in favor of the United Presbyterians.

Westminster took the lead at the outset and continually increased the lead to the end of the game.

Allegheny was held to two field goals. Bair caging one in the first half and Gillies coming through with a counter in the second half. Westminster was led by Delahaunty with six goals, five of which came in the first period and by Crowell, sub forward and Connor who had four apiece.

Westminster found Allegheny's defense almost negligible and practically all of their goals were made from close range. At the half the count stood 25-7. Westminster garnering 15 points before the Meadville Methodists first scored. Lineup:

Scholastics Lose To Temple Israel

The Temple Israel team nosed out the New Wilmington Scholastics, 39 to 38, in a fast and exciting game on the Temple Israel floor on Tuesday night.

The game was decided in the final minute of play when Ginsberg and Plant shot field goals. The Temple boys got away to a good start and held a lead of 32 to 18 at the end of the first half. The New Wilmington team staged a remarkable comeback in the second half, led by Hutchinson, and almost had victory within their grasp.

Hutchinson, E. Solomon and Ginsberg were the outstanding stars of the battle.

The summary:

Geneva Team On Three Day Trip

BEAVER FALLS, Jan. 18.—Geneva's basketball team leaves Thursday morning on a three-day trip. Thursday night Muskingum's crack quintette will be played at New Concord. John Carroll at Cleveland on Friday night, and Canisius in Buffalo on Saturday. That these games are hard assignments for Coach McMillin's men is assured. Muskingum has one of the best teams in the district, a veteran five that has lost but one game this year to Ohio State. John Carroll has consistently good basketball teams and this year is the outstanding college team of the Cleveland district. Canisius' quality is well known. On a recent tour its basketball team lost to Duquesne, but won from Waynesburg. The Covenanters have done but little to date having won from Tech, but lost decisively to Westminster and Grove City. However, Coach McMillin has been able to gauge the ability of his new men in these games and thinks he has a winning combination for future games.

Rogers Hornsby who is to wear the uniform of the Boston Braves next season has now been a major league player for a dozen years. During all of this time with the exception of last season he was with the St. Louis Cardinals being manager of the Mound City team during the later years. For six successive years he won the National league batting championship usually finishing with a sensationally high average.

An American women's tennis team headed by Helen Wills will begin an invasion of Europe in the early spring. The trip will be sponsored by the United States Lawn Tennis association.

Good Time Charlie — By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1928, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

This "Bounding Beauty," whom you see shooting at you from the Stars and Stripes, is famous throughout the length and breadth of the land as a Chautauqua lecturer, magazine and newspaper writer, and movie actor. Not being content with such fame, the gentleman in question will try desperately to gain an even more prominent position in the spot light of publicity by trying out for the United States Olympic team, wishing to match his speed with the greatest runners of the world who will meet in friendly (?) rivalry in the stadium at Amsterdam next July and August.

"Aha!" you snicker, "a movie actor, a magazine fiction writer, and a Chautauqua lecturer, and he thinks he can make the Olympic team!" But pause, brethren and sistren, before you chortle too loudly, because this same actor-author-lecturer has a very fine chance of making the trip to Holland next summer, and not at his own expense, either. For Charles W. Paddock is a most remarkable athlete, and neither years, cheers, nor beers seem to dull the keen edge of his speed, nor lessen his stamina.

Back in 1919 young Mr. Paddock startled the athletic world by winning both sprint races at the Interallied games in Paris. Since then he has competed in two Olympics, sprinted his way around the world with Loren Murchison as a partner, won five national championships, and has broken between thirty and forty world's sprinting records, including the standard mark of 9 and 3-5ths for 100 yards. Also, it might be added, he had a row with the A. A. U. and announced his engagement to Bebe Daniels!

Feg Murray Says—

Additional athletes who might be starred in some current stage and movie productions: Virginia Van Wie in "The Girl From Chicago"; a baseball magnate in "The Ivory Door"; Earl Britton in "Interference"; Philadelphia Nationals in "Burlesque"; Jack, M. D. in "The Doctor's Dilemma"; Nick Altrock in "Funny Face"; and Maynard Lasswell in "Four Walls."

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The man who has been given the opportunity to fill Rogers Hornsby's shoes, but not his disposition, at second base for the New York Giants is one of baseball's most interesting characters. He is Pat Crawford, second baseman of the Greenville club of the South Atlantic or "Sally" league.

Like Julius Caesar, old-time Gaul infielder, Crawford has been offered a big league crown a couple of times or so and "thrice has he refused it." Crawford's main objection to major league ball is the fact that he will be called upon to play Sunday ball.

He is of a religious turn of mind and does not care to do this. Quite obviously the mogul who pays his weekly salary would like to sign him on a seven-day basis. A six-day week contract would set an awfully bad precedent. Wide-spread knowledge of such an agreement would bring a demand from all the grocers and butchers in the majors for Wednesday afternoons off—during July and August at least. As it is all the boys have the rainy days to themselves regardless of whether or not they are sun worshipers.

Crawford is a good minor league second baseman, a good hitter and a heady ball player.

Connie Mack is depending on old "Alabam" for his utility shortstop this year—the man who can step into the breach if Joe Boley is injured or acquires the "woofits". Joe Hassler is the gentleman mentioned.

Hassler enters the big time via the Waterbury club of the Eastern league, but he hails from Fort Smith, Ala.

Hassler got his chance when Connie Mack made a deal with Toledo in the A. A. whereby Carl Husta, infielder, goes there under an optional agreement.

Husta has been on Connie's list a couple of years. Just how much Carl has hurt his baseball chances by pounding the maple courts of the pro basketball league every winter is problematical.

It is questionable whether an athlete can go at top speed in the cage game five or six nights a week during the winter and accept the unsettled mode of living caused by constant traveling and retain his top form for the diamond every spring.

Speaking about the Athletics, or were we? Ira Thomas, former catcher with the old White Elephants, has unearthed a new Indian prospect for a tryout with the Mackmen. And he and Connie Mack offer up a prayer that he may prove just half as good a pitcher as old Chief Bender.

The lad's name is Leo Whitehorn. He hails from Quinton, Okla., and is a mere stripling of 21. He's a right-hander.

Thomas found him playing semi-pro ball out west and signed him. The Athletics can't lose any more than a board bill and railroad ticket on him as it cost them nothing to land him.

Rogers Hornsby took it upon himself to refer to young Freddy Lindstrom, hustling Giant infielder, in uncomplimentary terms—called him a "cry baby" to be exact.

Now, in view of the rapid rise of Lindstrom to big league fame on the merit of his play alone—and the fact that Freddy is still a popular member of the Giants and accepted by his present teammates as a likeable, earnest young chap, the laugh seems to be on Hornsby. Rogers probably would relish an encounter with Mr. Lindstrom.

The question of the necessity for such an encounter is a debatable one. Mr. Lindstrom has conducted himself with due decorum, to date. Brother Hornsby has not—according to the Giant officials.

East Brook Quint Tops Wampum 28-10

East Brook high school basketball team had very little difficulty in downing Wampum high in a recent floor game, played on the Wampum court. The final score was 28 to 10.

It was the work of Kwiat and Patterson with twelve field goals between them that gave the East Brook boys their victory. The score at the end of the first half was 15 to 2 in favor of the East Brook team.

The summary:—

East Brook	28	Wampum	10
Kwiat	F.		McKim
Gormley	F.		Drucken
Patterson	C.		Morrow
Bilger	G.		Herbert
Alborn	G.		Porter

Subs—McCreary, Rung, St. Clair, McMillin, Cheni, Reno, Mundo. Field Goals—Kwiat 7, Patterson 5, McKim 2, Reno. Fouls—East Brook, 4 out of 9; Wampum, 4 out of 13. Referee—Kirker.

One of the results of the popularity of dog racing in England is the amazing prices being paid for greyhounds. Almost anything on four long legs will bring a fancy price. In the better class dogs there is the wildest speculation. A few weeks ago Waterweed, dam of Golden Seal (winner of the last Waterloo Cup) was sold for $4,2000 and at the same sale a litter of six puppies ten months old realized $7,000.

GUILTY OF MURDER IN FORST DEGREE, GETS LIFE SENTENCE

LOGAN, W. Va., Jan. 18.—Milliard Porter, charged with conspiracy to kill Ed Hensley, a state prohibition officer in the ambush of a ginseng party in Chauncey Hollow August 16, was found guilty of first degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. The jury was out 20 minutes.

Circuit Judge Bland overruled a motion for a new trial.

Hensley, his son Donald and Ernie Marcum were killed in the Chauncey Hollow shooting and Howard Tomblin was severely wounded.

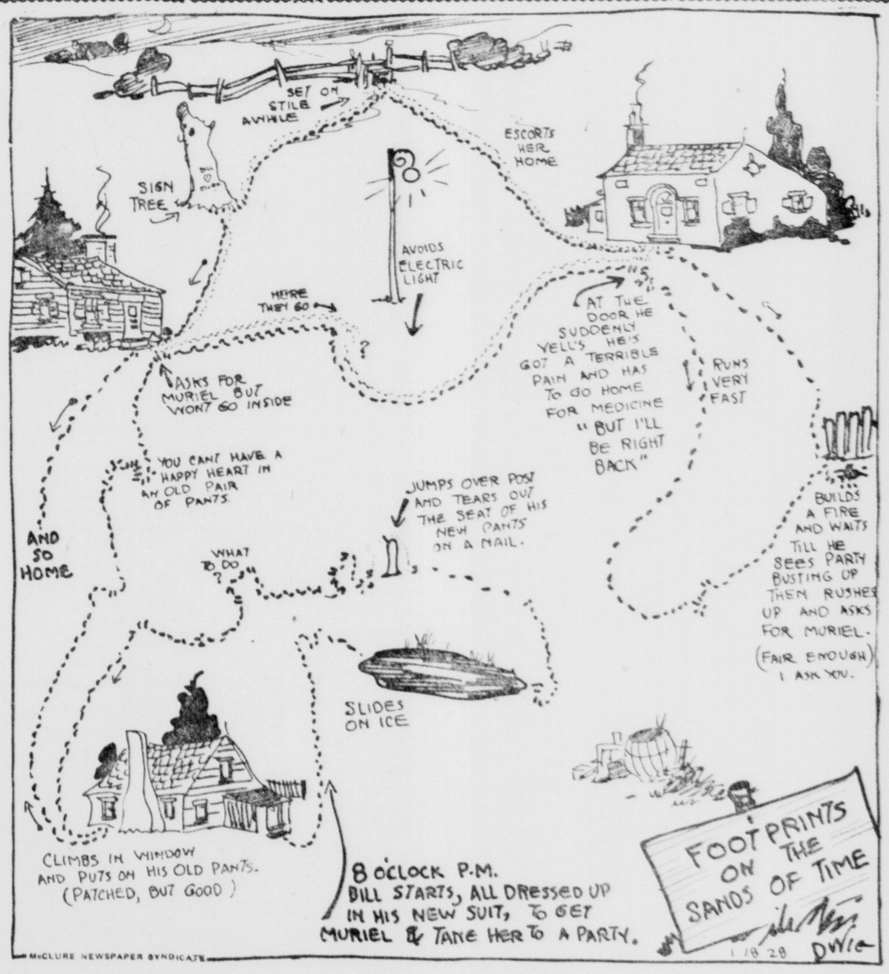

Porter, sole witness for himself, said he accompanied Mit and Bird Nelson and Isom Curry when Hensley and 10 other men were ordered away from the hollow, but he said he was not armed. "We had three stills near their camp," Porter testified, "and wished to make a run of liquor next day."

The Nelsons and Curry escaped, but Porter surrendered and later said the others planned to reach Mingo county through an old mine and then go to Illinois.

The track and field performances of the late Alvin C. Kraenzlein, particularly his unparalleled achievements of the 1900 Olympic Games at Paris, will long be remembered in the world of athletics.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The industrial stocks were unusually dull and sluggish in the early trading today, carrying into this session the inactivity and indecision that made yesterday's market the dullest full session since last July. A decline in call loan rates to 4 per cent stimulated speculative buying near the end of the first hour, and moderate price gains were recorded in some sections of the list. Pool activity has been somewhat "toned down" and outside buying demand curtailed.

Operations of the Steel Corporation's mills were reported at 78 per cent of capacity and the independents' at 70 per cent. An increase of 3 per cent over last week. An increase in steel requirements was reported at interior producing centers, and inquiries are pouring in from important consumers. Copper and Textile markets were fairly active.

New Wilmington Defeats Mercer

Lawrence County Team Wins Fourth Straight Victory On Tuesday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 18.—Accurate shooting won the fourth straight victory of the season for the New Wilmington passers who defeated Mercer high school 38-20 here yesterday evening. Only in the first period of the game did the Mercer team threaten to outscore the college town five.

The play in the first quarter was marred by fouling and neither team played well, but in the second period the local quintet found the basket and were leading 16-9 at half time.

Again in the third stanza the New Wilmington combine outscored Mercer, but were checked for a time in the final period by a short-lived Mercer comeback. The Wilmington quintet easily outplayed their opponents in the closing minutes of the game.

Hutchison and Eagleson starred for New Wilmington while Broadbent was the outstanding player of the Mercer five. The sensational shooting of Eagleson, the diminutive college town forward featured the contest.

The New Wilmington girls' team also chalked up their fourth straight victory of the season by defeating the Mercer girls 32-19 in a hard-fought preliminary tilt.

The summaries:

New Wilmington		Mercer

Dr. C. B. Wingerd Makes Address

Speaks At Anniversary Meeting Of Kiwanis Club At Noon

Celebrating the 13th birthday anniversary of Kiwanis a special address was given at the regular luncheon meeting of the local club held at noon today in the dining room of the Elks home with W. M. Nunn as master of ceremonies.

Dr. C. B. Wingerd pastor of the Central Presbyterian church gave an address in which he told of the history of the movement since its inception in Detroit, Mich., 13 years ago. It has grown, says Dr. Wingert, until now there are 1,633 chapters and over 100,000 individuals connected with it

"With a motto: We Build" Kiwanis has for 13 years been building the basic structures for a life,, Dr. Wingered continued. The first of these as seen through the eyes of a Kiwanian, is kindness. We might be quoted as saying the Kiwanis thinks the milk of human kindness to be the most cardinal virtue. It costs nothing and needs only to be understood to be appreciated."

Industry was mentioned as another feature on the program of Kiwanis as was the need of wholesome men, the type that Kiwanis builds.

"Kiwanis must be known primarily as a service club" Dr. Wingerd concluded, "and some of the greater services that it does is the promotion of neighborlyness and sociability . If it exists only for that Kiwanis would have a good reason for living."

It was announced that because of the joint advertisers and community dinner to be held Monday evening at the Scottish Rite Cathedral the club will not meet Wednesday January 25. Members are expected to attend the dinner in place of going to the regular meeting.

POUR OUT 600 GALLONS CONFISCATED LIQUOR AT COURTHOUSE

stable A. Sharp Leslie and Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Musser.

Some of the liquor was nearly in the class of so-called "good liquor." Some of it was in a class with T. N. T. for when the bottles were broken they exploded with a bang. Some of the destroyed stuff was pure alcohol, and some of it looked like something that came out of a lamp.

The drain of the courthouse may get over the nauseous stuff that was poured down it, but it can hardly ever expect to smell the same. The stench permeated the upstairs of the court house and a stranger coming in might have imagined himself in a Bowery honky tonk on cleanup day.

The liquor has been accumulating for months in the dungeon like room in the cellar used for storage and by the odor of it, most of it had spoiled.

EDUCATE 5,000 MOUNTAIN FOLK

Six women are putting Buncombe county, North Carolina, on the map as the county in the United States which is setting the pace for adult education. Six years ago they set out to eliminate illiteracy and have educated more than 5,000 mountaineers. Hugo Bezdek Jr. Revealed Missing From Dartmouth

Son Of Famous Penn State Coach Fails To Return From Christmas Vacation

HAD OPERATION ON TONSILS, SAY

(International News Service)

HANOVER, N. H., Jan. 18.—Although word came here today from the parents of Hugo Bezdek, Jr., Dartmouth student and son of the famous Pennsylvania State college football coach, that their son had not "disappeared", considerable mystery surrounded the whereabouts of young Bezdek.

Bezdek's mother in New York and his father in Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, were reported as saying their son had had his tonsils removed and was recovering at the home of a friend near New York City.

Last Jan. 7, however, Mrs. Bezdek wired Dartmouth authorities asking about the whereabouts of her son. Investigation revealed that the boy had not returned from his Christmas vacation, nor had he been heard from by any of his friends here.

Father Doubts Missing.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 18.—Hugo Bezdek, famous State college football coach, resting today after a trip from a Baltimore hospital, believes his son, Hugo Jr., reported missing from Dartmouth, is either safe with his mother at the McAlpin hotel, New York, or that at least she knows his whereabouts.

The coach, recovering from an operation, would receive no callers today, but friends said he had expressed no concern over reports his son is missing. He believes Mrs. Bezdek will be able to clear up the "mystery".

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—Counsel for M. A. Federinko, defaulting clerk of the Indiana Farmers Bank and Trust Company, today told the state board of pardons that the former clerk had a good record prior to the defalcation, Federinko seeks to pardon.

The board was told that Federinko has served four years of a five-year minimum sentence. He was sentenced on two counts of larceny and also for forgery.

The man who gave the University of Chicago a million to seek means of lengthening human life knows his cities very well.

NEW CASTLE DRY GOODS CO.

Over 4500 Children Members Of Library

How many children do you think are registered as members of the boys and girls department of the New Castle Public Library? And of that number, how many withdraw books regularly? Although exact figures are not available as to the latter point, an estimate is given by Miss Helen Minick, children's librarian.

By actual cout, there are almost 4,500 boys and girls registered so that they can take out books. And the registrants come from all parts of the city, and range in ages from six to 16.

Of course, there is no way to check up on the actual number that withdraw books, but it is estimated at the library that at least one third, if not one half, of the total number are active members of the library. That means, at least 1,500 children, if not 2,250 are regular patrons of the library.

All this, they claim at the children's department, is but another argument for the branch library plan. Many of these children come from the east side, the south side and Mahoningtown. And, they believe many more would come to the library—and benefit from the advantages that it offers—if it were but closer to their homes.

Branches are planned both on the east side and the south side. At present there is a small library at the Mahoning school, which tries to take care of the needs of the children.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

This business of roaming round sometimes runs from one extreme to another. F'r instance last night. Inside of half an hour I was at both ends of the wet and dry issue. Sort of a Sahara desert dryness in one spot and a sopping wetness in another.

At seven fifteen, met Frederick A. Wallis, Commissioner of Correction for the City of New York. Mr. Wallis is a cultured gentleman, a splendid talker, and a thorough dry. Rather an anomaly too, a New York official who is dry, but Mr. Wallis is that. He talked for half an hour or so on Immigration, Prohibition and the general condition of things and then had to leave for his lecture engagement in the First M. E.

From The Castleton I went to the county jail, down into the dungeon like hole where County Detective Bill Fleming keeps the confiscated liquor. It was "Pouring Night" with Fleming and District Attorney Bryan and Sheriff Reynolds in the role of hosts.

Just smelling that stuff was enough to turn your innards up on end. Drinking it is past thinking. Of all the vile odors that ever smote the nostrils of mortal man, that combined odor of alcohol, moonshine, wine, beer, synthetic gin, and other liquors of indefinite vintage was ten per cent farther than the worst.

The fishes in the Shenango River today are probably reeling around with a hangover, and the sewer pipes probably have a coat of corrosion in them.

There isn't any other smell like that one. Carbon dioxide, hydrogen sulphide, or a limberger cheese that the world has passed by in its youth would be like some oriental perfume compared to it. One drink or any of it and an anemic rabbit would walk up to a bull elephant and take a nasty cut at his wiskers.

This colyum is not conducting the drive for funds for Cook's Forest; but it believes that the drive should be encouraged. This morning the Highland Troop No. 18, of the Boy Scouts, sent in a check to the colyum, to be used in the Cook Forest project. Now that check alone isn't going to buy the forest of course, it will take many such checks, but the spirit back of the check is the kind of spirit that spans rivers, builds bridges, runs governments and makes the whole world go. Its the kind of spirit that will not be downed and those lads in Troop 18 are the kind of lads that will succeed. Some of these days I'll be seeing Tom Liggett, the secretary of the Cooks Forest project, and he'll tell me of some of the big checks he has received to buy the forest, and then I'll stock out my chest and tell him about Highland Troop, No. 18.

The next convention to be welcomed is the Outdoor Advertising men. They'll be here from all parts of the state and if you meet up with any of them show them you're glad they are here.

And speaking of conventions, it would be nice if the rest of the trades and professions would bring their meets here. Now the thought somes that the dentists have never held a convention here. Seems to me that Doc Carpenter or Doc Taylor or Lutz or Bauman or any of them could get that thing started. The dentists hold a lot of meetings disguised as Ondontology conferences or something equally as hard to pronounce. Bring one of them here.

The most certain sign of greatness is humbleness. The man who can wear his honors modestly usually gets a chance to wear more. All of which is prefatory to relating this incident. Went out with Sheriff Reynolds last night to see a boy who had been stabbed. Just a bit of a tike, lying in a hospital bed, with a terrible stab wound reaching clear in to the lung. The sheriff walked into the room for the purpose of getting the details of the incident from the little fellow. As he sat down at the bedside he leaned over and said "do you know me Bud, I'm Buck Reynolds." No mention of his office, just Buck Reynolds. Smiling through his pain the little lad remarked, "yeah I know you, you're a cop." Now Buck has been the sheriff for two years but to the youngsters of the city he's still a cop, a cop who used to help them out when they needed help. And to a youngster, titles mean nothing at all. A fellow is either good or bad in himself. All the titles in the world don't help or hinder.

WHAT DOES YOUR MIRROR SHOW?

A yellow, blotchy, pimply skin? You also have a dull, tired worn-out feeling? No wonder. Your system is clogged with intestinal poisonous waste. Remove it at once with Schenck's Mandrake Pills. Take them tonight as we tell you and the sallowness and pimples will start to disappear and oh how much brighter the world will look to you.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are purely vegetable. Thousands of families for three generations have found nothing better than Schenck's Mandrake Pills for cleansing the system of poisons that cause skin trouble.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 18.—His left hand completely blown off when the detonator of a large bomb exploded, and his right hand badly mangled, Private William Quinn sang as the ambulance rushed him to a hospital. "It's only to soothe the pain," he explained.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Only one woman to every 20 men goes to prison, Attorney General Sargent pointed out in asking congress to appropriate $275,000 for the industrial prison for women at Alderson, W. Va. He denied that it cost ten times as much to keep a woman in prison as it does for a man.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Suit for a final accounting of moneys that may total $6,000,000 has been filed in surrogate's court against Hiram E. Manville, brother of the late Thomas Franklin Manville, "asbestos king", who left more than $26,000,000, by attorneys representing 37 former employes of the Johns-Manville corporation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Fierce Atlantic storms have delayed the arrival of President William T. Cosgrave and the Irish Free State delegates on their way to the United States on a mission of good will. They are on the White Star liner Homeric.
